U.S. Attorneys Seek Court Order to End Dock Walkout

Tories Expected to Win As Britons Flock to Polls

Dodgers Lead Chisox, 8-0, In 4th Inning

Snider and Moon Each Wallop 2-Run Homers

Chicago —AP— A 2-run homer by "Duke" Snider in the third inning and another by Wally Moon in the fourth, climaxing a 6-run rally, sent the Los Angeles Dodgers into an 8-0 lead over the Chicago White Sox today in the sixth World Series game.

"Duke" Snider, who hadn't started the last three games because of a knee injury, sent a 390-foot homer into the lower left field stands after Wally Moon had walked in the third inning to send the Dodgers ahead, 2-0.

It was Snider's eleventh home run in World Series competition, tying him with the Yankees' "Mickey" Mantle for second place behind "Babe" Ruth's 15. Podres set the White Sox down in order in the third.

In the Dodger fourth Norm Larker lined a single to center. Don Demeter ran for Larker. John Roseboro sacrificed. Maury Wills smashed a single, scoring Demeter. Podres scored Wills all the way from first with a 400-foot double. Dick Donovan replaced Early Wynn. Jim Gilliam walked. Charley Neal hit a double, scoring Podres and Gilliam and making it 6-0.

Moon hit the first pitch for a home run, scoring Neal and sending Donovan to the showers. "Turk" Lown replaced Donovan.

Snider bounced out to Klusowski.

Gil Hodges beat out a dribbler past the mound and went to second on Luis Aparicio's low throw past first. Nelson Fox threw out Demeter to end the half-inning.

Stock Market Reflects Opinion On Conservatives' Victory

London —AP— Britons voted in heavy numbers today for a new government. Late predictions favored the ruling conservatives to win a third term in office.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, looking up at the sky after voting, remarked jauntily: "Warm and fine all day, with very good prospects later."

Macmillan's opponent, labor leader Hugh Gaitskell, toured his home district of South Leicestershire area to get out last minute support. Gaitskell, 53, had voted by mail earlier.

Shares on the London stock market surged sharply upward to reflect the financial district's confidence in a conservative victory. Brokers crowded the exchange, jostling each other in a scramble to join the brisk trading.

Neither the conservatives nor the laborites have formed three governments in a row for Britain in recent times. The conservatives won three straight elections in 1922, 1923 and 1924, but in 1922 labor formed a short-lived minority government with liberal support. The liberals won three straight elections in 1906, January, 1910, and December, 1910.

Despite morning fog—the season's first after Britain's sunniest summer and fall in 200 years—voters turned out in big numbers. The fog gave way to sunshine in many areas later.

Some polling stations reported the turnout running well ahead of the last election in 1955, when a 75.8 per cent poll brought 26,700,000 voters to the booths.

Eleventh-hour public opinion polls, the stock market and the bookmakers — legal in Britain — all indicated the conservatives would win a majority of the 630 house seats and with it five more years in control of the government.

After a final canvass of 100 key voting districts, conservative leaders predicted their majority would be about 50 seats, three less than when parliament was dissolved Sept. 18.

The laborites also predicted victory for their side by a majority of about 15 seats.

Three final public opinion polls showed a jump in conservative popularity. But they still reported a massive 16 per cent of "don't knows" — people who either hadn't decided which way to vote or wouldn't tell their decision.

Writ to be Issued Under Taft Law

New York —AP— Acting on President Eisenhower's orders, government attorneys moved to seek a court order today sending 85,000 striking longshoremen back to work from Maine to Texas.

There was little doubt a Taft-Hartley law injunction—requiring an 80-day return to work—would be issued promptly in federal district court. A judge's ruling was required, but never before has an injunction been refused in the 15 previous times the government has invoked the law's emergency provisions.

A court order ending the week-old strike was expected to send the workers back to the docks no later than tomorrow. William V. Bradley, president of the striking International Longshoremen's association, said "when we receive the order we will comply with it."

Quick Action
In ordering court action, Eisenhower repeated that if the strike were permitted to continue, it would imperil national health and safety and affect the food supply of the heavily populated Atlantic and gulf coast areas.

His order climaxed a day in which the Taft-Hartley law's emergency machinery turned with almost unprecedented speed.

A fact-finding board held hearings in Washington yesterday morning, wrote its report during the afternoon, and dispatched it by navy jet fighter plane last night to Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at La Quinta, Calif.

Eisenhower received the report and ordered the court action less than 17 hours after the board started its hearings. It was still last night in California, but early today on the east coast, when he acted. To avoid legal technicalities, he waited until he had the

No Accord Seen In Steel Strike

Pittsburgh —AP— Steel negotiators today came up against President Eisenhower's implied strike settlement deadline without hope of quickly ending the 86-day-old strike and apparently resigned to government use of the Taft-Hartley law.

Each side said it did not want government legal intervention. United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said his union would undertake a legal fight to prevent it, but he said workers would obey the law of the land.

4-Level Structure Asks Parking Ramp On Soldiers Square

Construction of a parking ramp on Soldiers Square and the city parking lot south of it will be studied by the city council's public safety committee.

A 4-level ramp large enough for 600 to 700 cars was suggested to the city council Wednesday by Ald. John Schumacher, who called for the study.

The ramp, Schumacher said, could be built over Soldiers Square and the street kept open, or from the ground up and the street closed.

An elevator ramp off Morrison street probably would be best, he said, because Lawrence street is 1-way.

Van Doren Invited To Testify in Probe

Reported Willing to Appear Today or Friday at Inquiry

Washington —AP— Charles Van Doren, one of the all-time big money winners on a television quiz program, was reported today to have been invited to testify before a house committee investigating charges that the quiz programs have been fixed.

A source, who asked he not be identified, said Thomas E. Ervin, vice president and general counsel of the National Broadcasting company told the house subcommittee yesterday that Van Doren would be willing to testify either today or tomorrow.

Van Doren is now under a $50,000 a year contract with NBC as a television commentator. The source emphasized that Van Doren, a former Columbia university English instructor who won $129,000 on NBC's quiz show "Twenty-One" in 1956, was not being ordered to appear. He said a telegram, sent to Van Doren merely invited him to testify.

Mentioned Frequently
Van Doren's name has been mentioned many times in the last two days of testimony about allegations the show "Twenty-One" was rigged, but no witness has linked Van Doren with anything improper.

Van Doren has denied any knowledge of rigging. He also denied being involved in any way with what some other contestants have described as coaching on questions and

Strict Controls On Federal Funds For Highways

Washington —AP— The government today slapped stringent controls over state spending of federal funds for road-building.

Sec. of Commerce Frederick K. Mueller trimmed state highway allotments $700 million and said the curbs were necessary to keep the interstate highway program on a pay-as-you-build basis.

He said that even with the temporary one cent increase in the federal gas tax, the roadbuilding trust fund would not be able to support construction projects at their old pace.

The commerce chief said the states will be permitted to spend $1,800,000,000 on express roads during the current fiscal year that ends next June 30. Original plans had called for spending $24 billion.

Each state was told how much it can spend and at what rate the funds can be parceled out.

No Decision on Place Of Mario Lanza Burial

Rome —AP— The body of Mario Lanza was being prepared for burial today, but his widow so far was too upset to decide whether he would rest in the Hollywood he shunned or in Italy.

The golden-voiced American tenor died yesterday of a heart attack in a Rome clinic.

As Autumn Leaves Fall, We Hear Winter's Call

Wisconsin — Cloudy and colder tonight with showers and thunderstorms ending in the east. A few light showers probably changing to snow flurries extreme northwest by late tonight. Friday mostly cloudy and cold, and a few showers or snow flurries likely north. Outlook for Saturday: Rain, snow north, continued cold.

Break in Gas Line Endangers Austin

Gravest Peril Apparently Past, Police Report Says

Austin, Texas —AP— A roaring break in a 10-inch gas line spewed the explosive fuel over a vast section of Austin early today and threatened thousands with potential tragedy.

But four hours after the break, police said the gravest danger of a blast appeared ended. The 300 to 400 persons who fled their homes returned.

The propane gas collected in any low place and a spark or fire could set it off.

One of those who refused to evacuate was C. W. Wright, 78.

"Leave?" he asked a reporter. "I turned off the pilot. I've lived here 30 years and I'm not leaving."

Mrs. R. James Andrews said, "It gassed me, but I could stand it and I didn't want to leave." She didn't.

An official of Phillips Petroleum company said the break apparently was caused by a cleaning device sent through the line.

The line carries butane or propane depending on the season. The gases are processed from natural gas and liquefy under pressure. They are used for heating and cooking by many homeowners who have no natural gas line connection.

Police Capt. Otto Ludwig said 300 to 400 persons were moved out of the area. There was no panic.

Policemen, firemen, state police and troops from Bergstrom air field joined in the door-to-door effort to move persons out of the area.

Because propane is heavier than air gas may have an anesthetic effect, disaster crews sought to wake every person in the area.

Police Break Up Narcotics Ring

New York —AP— Police posing as dope-addicted beatniks said today they had smashed a million dollar narcotics ring with the arrest of 15 men and a woman.

Police narcotics agents said those jailed formed the center of a big ring that peddled marijuana and heroin in Queens and Nassau counties.

The agents grew beards and for 10 months visited in the bars and sleazy apartments of numerous addicts to pick up clues to the dealers.

Report Given Board of Public Works Reversed

Appleton didn't get all the land it thought it did, but it did get some when it paid the Chicago and North Western Railway company $10,000 in 1946 for a right-of-way strip through Belaire park and ravine.

Nikita Tells Why U.S. Trails Reds

We Don't Launch Moon Rockets As Russia Because We Lack Communist Government, He Says

London —(U)— Nikita S. Khrushchev suggests Americans trail the Russians in launching moon rockets because the United States doesn't have a communist government.

Before a cheering crowd in Vladivostok Tuesday, the Soviet premier teased the United States for its failure to follow the Russians to the moon.

A hitherto unreported section of Khrushchev's speech, made on his way home from Red China, was broadcast by radio Moscow today.

Khrushchev asked: "What is the explanation of our great successes? Are we the cleverest and most capable? It is not that we... are in any way exceptional. The fact is that our Soviet socialist order enabled the people's creative powers to expand...

"Why is it that the U. S. A., whose wealth and scientific technical development astonish the world, is now repeatedly trying to launch a rocket to the moon, but the rocket, instead of going to its target, sinks to the bottom of the sea?"

"They do not lack dollars, materials or scientists. They lack the kind of system we have."

Nehru Warns Reds India Will Resist Moves

For Time Being Troops Will be Left Where They are

New Delhi, India — (U)— Prime Minister Nehru warned Peiping today India will resist any further moves across the Tibetan border by Chinese communist troops.

But for the time being, he said, India will not try to eject the Chinese from disputed outposts they have seized.

"We do not intend to start military operations against these places at this stage when we are dealing with the situation on a political level," he told his monthly news conference.

Resist Moves

"If any change is made from existing positions, that certainly will be resisted."

Nehru met newsmen a day after disclosure of a letter to him from Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai calling the border dispute "merely an episode in our age-old friendship."

Nehru said Chou's message indicated some improvement in the tense relations between the two countries but added: "How far that is an improvement on the situation I cannot say."

Chou was replying to greetings sent by Nehru on red China's 10th anniversary. He made no mention of Nehru's recent letter rejecting red China's claims to some 40,000 square miles of border territory.

Nehru said India would remain calm but firm in the dispute. He pointed out the Chinese actually are on Indian-claimed soil at only a few points, including the Longju outpost in northeast India and parts of the Ladakh sector of Kashmir state.

Former UAW at Sheboygan Gets Jail Sentence

Nick Vrokovik, 35, Beat 2 Non-Strikers Five Years Ago

Sheboygan —(U)— Nick Vrokovik, 35-year-old former member of the United Auto Workers Union, was sentenced Wednesday to six months in jail and fined $250 for the beating of two non-striking Kohler company workers five years ago.

Vrokovik, who now lives in North Hollywood, Calif., was charged with assault and had pleaded innocent but he switched his plea to no contest when he appeared before Circuit Judge Lincoln Neprud.

The Sheboygan county jail term was for the attack on the late William Bersch, Sr., 65. The fine was for beating his son, William Jr., 34.

Judge Neprud said he would consider a request of Vrokovik's attorney that the jail term be served under the Huber law to allow Vrokovik to work at a job during the day and spend his nights in jail.

The UAW has been on strike at Kohler company since April 5, 1954, but the plumb-line firm returned to production shortly after the strike began with new workers and non-strikers.

Fist Fights Erupt During Rome Movie

Rome —(U)— Cries of "Viva Fascism" set off a wave of fist fights early today during Rome's first showing of Roberto Rossellini's new film, a story of anti-fascist partisans. Carabinieri had to rush in to the fashionable theater to restore order.

The film, "Il Generale Della Rovere," was having its first public showing since it shared the first prize at the Venice film festival a month ago.

Soon after midnight, with the film about at midpoint, cries of "Viva Fascism" and "Down with Rossellini" came from the balcony. A shower of leaflets carrying similar slogans rained down on the orchestra seats.

In the general uproar the house lights went on. Fist fight after fist fight broke out. Police rushed in. No one was injured seriously. A half dozen youths were taken into custody.

The film was held up for more than 20 minutes before police and ushers restored order.

4 Lutheran Churches in Merger Talks

Chicago —(U)— Representatives of four Lutheran church groups resumed merger talks today.

They contemplate a union that will result in a new Lutheran church with three million members.

Meeting at the Joint Commission on Lutheran Unity, the conferees represent the United Lutheran church in America, Augustana Lutheran church, American Evangelical Lutheran church and Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church.

At earlier sessions in Chicago this year the commission gave provisional approval to drafts of a proposed constitution and by-laws for the new church.

Discussions now are being resumed with the hope of having the basic documents for the new church ready by next February. Then they will be presented to the 1960 annual meetings of the four church groups.

Nick Vrokovik, 35, Center, was fined $250 and sentenced to six months in Sheboygan county jail Wednesday after his plea of no contest to two charges of felonious assault stemming from the 5-year old UAW strike against the Kohler company. Vrokovik was allegedly one of three men who beat up two non-striking Kohler employees. Now a resident of North Hollywood, Calif., Vrokovik is shown with his attorneys, David Rabinovitz, left and Max Raskin. In the rear are his mother, Anna, left and wife, Delores.

Civilians to Take Over Air Traffic Work

Military Personnel Relieved Soon as Economy Move

Oklahoma City —(U)— Civilian air traffic controllers will take over most of the air control jobs now handled by military personnel under a program outlined here Wednesday night. It was called an economy move.

E. R. (Pete) Quesada, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, told the Air Traffic Control association convention the FAA is ready to assume operation of 2,095 military air traffic control centers at 337 global locations.

He said the switch probably will be completed by 1963.

Additional Help
Quesada said the proposed new system will require an additional 9,000 traffic controllers and 6,000 maintenance technicians.

"We discovered operation of these 2,095 facilities currently required 20,000 military personnel. We have estimated we can do the job with 13,300 persons," he said.

Association members were to watch a demonstration of a new control device which may simplify communications between the control tower and pilots.

Built by Radio Corporation of America for the FAA, the automatic ground-air communications system (AGACS) could mean the start of communication automation, an exhibitor said.

It's a two way message device consisting of a large console on the ground and a data processing receiver in the airplane.

Messages are sent electronically and no voice is used except in emergency.

"Before the system is finally approved," said Wayman Deal of the FAA, "there will be many modifications. We plan for it to be integrated into current traffic control practices."

Lunik III Past Moon; Soon to Pass Earth

614-Pound Vehicle to Start Back Toward Us by Saturday

Moscow —(U)— Russia's Lunik III, its trip past the moon completed, presumably continued on out into space today on a wide curving course scheduled to bring it rocketing back past the earth Oct. 18.

An official announcement Wednesday night said the 614-pound flying vehicle will not start its turn back toward the earth until Saturday, after reaching a point 292,043 miles from the earth.

At 9 a.m. (EST) Wednesday, when radio contact was made, the vehicle was 78,750 miles from the moon and 258,957 miles from the earth. Lunik's course, which eventually flattens out to parallel the earth's, is carrying it away from the moon more sharply than from the earth.

No Word
There was no word on the results — if any — of the vehicle's survey of the hidden side of the moon. The announcement said only that "the scientific measuring instruments, the thermal regulation and power supply systems, continue functioning normally."

"After passing the point of minimum distance from the moon," the announcement said, "the automatic interplanetary station continues to move firmly along the pre-set orbit. Another radio transmission from the satellite was scheduled from 9 to 10 a.m. EST today."

The announcement added Lunik's "shortest distance from the earth's surface will be about 40,000 kilometers (24,854 miles)" when it passes the planet.

At the time of last Sunday's launching, Russian scientists predicted the vehicle might approach within 1,240 miles of the earth. But the new figure indicated it would continue in orbit indefinitely, since it would be far out of the earth's atmospheric friction which would burn it up on contact.

Signals Picked Up
The world's largest radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, England, picked up signals from the space laboratory Wednesday, and Dr. J. G. Davies, chief of the observation team, said Lunik appeared to be about one degree higher in space than the Russians predicted earlier.

He added, however, that such a minor deviation "represents an amazing degree of accuracy."

Lunik III will be moving on a north to south course on its return trip past the earth. Soviet scientists said it would be visible to residents in the northern hemisphere using simple optical instruments during the Oct. 18 passage.

Would-be Rapist Tosses Woman Into Furnace
New York —(U)— A frustrated rapist beat up a young wife today and threw her into a blazing furnace. She managed to escape but was in critical condition with third degree burns covering her body.

The slightly built woman, Mrs. Hilda Koch, 24, mother of two children, is the wife of a Bronx apartment house superintendent.

She gasped this story to police: She was in the basement, tending the furnace, when the man, a 6-footer in his late 20s, approached and asked to rent an apartment. She told him none was available. The woman thought he had left but a moment later he

Nelson Says He'll Go To Air Force Talks On Bong Cancellation

Post-Crescent News Service
Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson announced late Wednesday that he had decided to go to Racine today for the air force explanation of discontinuing construction of Bong Air base near Kansasville.

Nelson was careful not to take a position in the controversy over an investigation of why the project was dropped, proposed by Rep. Gerald Flynn, Racine Democrat, or whether there should be an investigation of why the air base was started in the first place, as proposed by several of the state's Republican congressmen.

Rep. Gerald Flynn said Wednesday night that he had been told that construction of the Richard I. Bong Air Force base near Racine had been cancelled as part of a national cutback in defense spending.

Flynn said that James H. Douglas, secretary of the air force, told him that defense spending had to be cut drastically and that the Bong base was one of five projects that had to go.

Blunt Terms
But Nelson used blunt language against the air force in describing the problems. The decision left.

He was not going to attend the meeting to find fault, Nelson said, "even though the handling of the project appeared to be a major blunder."

"The federal government must be prepared to make concessions to state and area interests in straightening out the Bong mess. It is the government's responsibility to solve the problem in a way that will compensate for its mistakes," Nelson said.

Nelson said his office had taken two steps before the Racine meeting. The attorney general's office had been asked to determine whether the state could take over the area in the event it becomes available from the federal government.

If such legislation is needed, it would be submitted to the November session of the legislature. Nelson said the division of industrial development had been asked to investigate possible industrial uses of the federal land.

The idea of Rep. Henry Reuss, Milwaukee Democrat, that the field be reserved for a future midcontinental international jet-age terminal was termed the most promising suggestion so far and such a terminal might be conducive to industrial development on the remaining part of the project land, Nelson speculated.

Sec. Douglas and Maj. Gen. Augustus Minton, air force director of installations, were to be in Racine today to explain the cancellation to people of the area.

May Sue U.S.
After this conference, Flynn said, he probably will meet with attorneys and discuss the possibility of starting a federal suit to force the air force to rescind its order.

"It is not certain whether the Air Force has the authority to halt construction after it has accepted money from congress for it," Flynn said.

"The statutes say that when Congress provides money, the air force may build a base.

confronted her with a gun and ordered her to remove her clothes. She refused. He tried to attack her and she fought back.

He hit her about the head and face with the gun. Then he grabbed her and forced her through a 4-foot-wide door in the furnace.

Police said they had conflicting reports on how she got out.

When the air force accepts the money and starts the project, we believe it is committed to finish it."

Flynn said he had conferred in Washington with other congressmen and had been given assurance that an investigation of the Bong cancellation will be started by the house military affairs committee in January. He said it also is possible that a subcommittee of the full house group will begin the probe immediately.

Tells Court Of Shooting

Manufacturer Says He Thought Union Man Was Armed

Newburgh, N. Y. —(U)— Manufacturer Malcolm R. White ashen-faced and shaken, told a jury yesterday how and why he killed a union organizer last Nov. 13.

"I shot and I just kept shooting," he said in Orange county court. "I emptied my gun at him, he was that near. All these things I had thought of — I was sure he would shoot me. The only thing I thought of was that I would never see the faces of my wife and baby again. I was scared. I was in fear of him."

White, founder and president of the Chester Cable corporation, a small plant at Chester, N. Y., is charged with first-degree murder in the pistol slaying of Alfred F. Dugan.

Dugan, a former convict and organizer for a small independent union, had called a strike at the plant in an effort to organize its workers. The AFL-CIO electrical workers already had a contract at the plant.

Relates Shooting
The slight, gray-haired 48-year-old defendant choked up with emotion as he related how the shooting took place near the plant.

Dugan came out of his car," he said slowly. "He had his hand in his raincoat pocket. I..."

White coughed and then continued. "I saw him fooling with it. I got out of my car. He was yelling and shouting and cursing. I got out and took my gun out of my pocket. He still kept coming toward me, he was much nearer, maybe five feet, maybe six feet — it's hard to say."

Then White told how he shot and just kept shooting. "There was no choice," he added.

White is pleading self-defense, contending he thought Dugan's hand in the pocket meant he had a gun. Dugan actually was unarmed, police said.

Van Doren Invited To Testify in Probe

answers in advance and he has offered to appear before the committee.

The reported invitation to Van Doren was disclosed as the committee prepared to shift attention to another television quiz show.

The first witness as the committee began an investigation of "Dotto" told of coaching and rigging on that show, the first of the big name quiz programs to collapse under fraud charges.

David Hushle, New York restaurant manager, testified that questions and answers were given to him in advance. He said that after three nighttime "Dotto" appearances he was told to "take the dive." That, he explained, was to miss a question purposely.

Two Coached Him

Hushle said he won $11,600 for three appearances on the nighttime show and $3,700 for five performances on the "Dotto" day show.

He said he was coached on the night program by Gil Cates, assistant producer, and on the day program by an official named Stan Green.

Hushle's opponent the night he lost was a Connie Hines.

Asked by subcommittee Counsel Robert W. Lishman if Miss Hines also had been coached, Hushle replied: "I don't know... but I was told in advance that Miss Hines would win."

When he was subpoenaed to appear before the New York grand jury investigating the quiz shows, Van Doren said he had been told to tell the truth. "He said," Hushle added, "that was the only thing I could do and that was exactly what we expect of you."

Producer Fired

Mrs. Dubarry Hillman of New York, who won $1,460 in five days on the daytime "Dotto" show during February, 1958, testified that Green regularly supplied to her in advance the information needed to win.

Asked whether she finally was told that her "services as an actress were no longer needed," Mrs. Hillman laughed and said, "that's a perfect way to put it."

She said she considered the program "entertainment... not that serious" and as for the television viewers: "They were having a happy time, I was having a happy time, everybody was."

A network official testified yesterday that the producer of "Tic Tac Dough" — one of the few surviving TV quiz programs — has been fired for refusing to swear that there had been no coaching of contestants.

That testimony was by Ervin, who said Howard Felsher, producer of the daytime television show, was fired last week by the network.

Word of the "Tic Tac Dough" firing came after two press agents for the defunct "Twenty-One" program had testified that program had

Freedman Enright

After a long day of open testimony, the house legislative oversight subcommittee went behind closed doors to question Daniel Enright, a co-owner, and Albert Freedman, producer of the "Twenty-One" show which once drew top audience ratings.

Both declined comment before and after the sessions. Enright said he was "under injunction from the committee to say nothing."

The closed door session began at 8:50 p.m. and lasted until 1 a.m. The investigators would not say what had taken place but described the witnesses as very cooperative.

In yesterday's open session, Ervin said that during a general check on NBC quiz shows he asked Felsher for a sworn statement that no "Tic Tac Dough" contestants had been fed advance answers.

Ervin said Felsher would not give such a statement "so we fired him."

NBC had taken over production of "Tic Tac Dough" and several other quiz shows after answers-in-advance accusations had been made about similar shows.

Most of yesterday's probing centered on "Twenty-One." Late in the day, Alfred Davis and Arthur Franklin testified the show had been rigged. The two had been press agents for the program.

They said Davis an attorney for their firm, Edwin Slote of New York, told them not to tell New York authorities the truth about the program.

Slote's law office later issued a statement authorized in his behalf. It said: "At no time were either Mr. Davis or his firm advised to tell anything other than the truth to any inquiries wherever initiated... any statements that may have been made to the contrary before the subcommittee are wholly unfounded and borne out of desperation and personal animosity."

Slote said he was willing to appear before the house investigators "for the purpose of discrediting Mr. Davis and his flagrant untruths."

Got $5,000 Advance

Edward Kletter, an executive of the firm which sponsored the show, said at one point in his testimony yesterday that he was told by Enright that Charles Van Doren had been advanced $5,000 while still a contestant.

Kletter said Van Doren was then theoretically in a position of losing all his winnings if he lost on the show. Kletter said he was agreeable to the advance because he regarded Van Doren as a good risk even if he were to lose all he had won on the show.

Van Doren, now under contract to NBC as a commentator, won $129,000 on the program. He has telegraphed the subcommittee a denial of board's report actually in hand, although he had received a teletyped summary in advance.

New York Procedure

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the request for an injunction probably would be filed in a New York court—a move for which government attorneys already had made arrangements.

Eisenhower's order to Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers provided, however, that the action could be filed in any federal district court.

The 80-day halt under Taft-Hartley procedure is designed to provide a cooling-off period during which negotiations are to continue. But unless the strike is settled before the end of that period, the longshoremen will be free to walk out again and the government can do nothing except by mediation.

Some officials believed it would be a week before actual brassacks bargaining would be resumed. Guy Farmer, chairman of the fact-finding body, yesterday urged the parties to start at once. The answers he got were not promising.

ILA President Bradley said that since Taft-Hartley had been invoked he could "see no knowledge that there was anything wrong with the show."

Two one-shot winners on the show, Miss Rose Leibbrand of Washington and Richard Jackman of New York, testified yesterday they had been given a general preview of "Twenty-One" questions and answers in advance but were not told which ones would be asked.

reason why we should resume" negotiations.

Alexander P. Chopin, chairman of the New York Dock and Shipping companies' organization, said the employers would not bargain until the men were back at work.

Police Halt Hog Embargo Try of 200

St. Joseph, Mo. — About 200 men, worried by falling hog prices, threatened to prevent truckers from unloading hogs Wednesday night at the stockyards here.

However, the crowd broke up after deputy sheriffs were called to the scene. The officers were jeered but there was no violence.

The demonstration tied in with a campaign by the National Farmers organization for an embargo on farm-to-market hog shipments until prices increase.

Tuesday, the NFO asked all farmers to hold hogs off the market until the price for the best grades reaches 19.60 per 100 pounds.

Most midwest markets said this had little effect on Wednesday's receipts and prices still sent down. Top quotations were $13.50 at St. Joseph, $13.35 at Kansas City and $13.25 at East St. Louis, Ill. These were the lowest levels in 3 1/2 years.

Crime Lab Unable To Determine Sex Of Child's Body

Madison — The State Crime laboratory has been unable to establish the sex of the child whose dismembered body was found in an Ozaukee county ditch.

The skull and other parts of the body were discovered Sunday in the area north of Milwaukee and sent to the laboratory as authorities sought the cause of death.

The full report is not expected for several days, but Charles Wilson, laboratory director, said Wednesday that based on the evidence presented it would be impossible to determine whether the child was a boy or girl. It was estimated the child was between 6 and 8 years old.

Wilson said he will need additional time to determine whether the child was murdered.

U. S. May Need Australia Site

Canberra, Australia — The United States might need Australia's Woomera rocket range to launch space vehicles, U.S. Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy told newsmen today.

He said Woomera might be useful for launching vehicles on certain orbits but had no advantage over America's Cape Canaveral and Santa Barbara ranges for testing guided missiles.

McElroy arrived today for a 4-day visit. He said he is visiting Australia mainly to make personal contacts with Australian leaders in case there should be a flareup in the Pacific.

He said he is not putting any specific proposals before the Australian government.

Files Suit for $1 Million Against Husband's Murderer

Oakland, Calif. — A widow is suing her husband's murderer for $1 million.

Mrs. Florence Ann Royal, 31, of San Leandro, filed a superior court suit Wednesday asking $500,000 actual damages and $500,000 punitive damages for the fatal shooting of her husband, Lawrence, 36, last January.

The killer, Clyde Briedlander, 55, was Royal's partner in a carwash business. He is serving five years to life for second degree murder.

Briedlander, who pleaded guilty, said he shot Royal in a sudden rage. The reason for the rage was never brought out.

Charlie Attains Pulcifer Easily, but He's Dismayed by Lack of History

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Pulcifer — I strode into this little town in fine fettle. The long miles and the demanding road has toughened and strengthened me. I always am surprised at how quickly a person can grow strong enough to fill an immediate need.

My pedometer tells me I strode 20 miles in five hours. With occasional halts for chatting, I managed to cover more than five miles an hour.

The army estimates that 120 steps per minute will result in about four miles per hour, and this is the speed at which military bodies move.

One man, however, marches more swiftly than 1,000 men and I find that I am able sometimes to tick off about seven miles per hour on the straight-away or downhill.

Anxious for More

My day's hike, with little halts here and there for passing the time of day, has tired me not at all. I feel strong enough for another swift 15 miles or so.

But I halt here at little Pulcifer where I am the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burgland, of whom I must tell you more later. I think it would be proper to say that I am a House guest.

I left Angelica where I spent the night in a camp trailer which belonged to Ray and Helen tavern. That hospitable couple rescued me from having to sleep outside in the cold, wet night.

Abundant Taverns

Frank Muck, 77, the senior citizen of Angelica, informed me the village, numbering fewer than 75 persons, was once the town of promise. The railroad, however, decided its route must be through Pulaski, so it was that place which grew instead of Angelica. But Angelica, with its 75 people, somehow manages to support a surprising total of six taverns, all within a half a mile of each other.

I moved out and wandered over the beautiful countryside, always heading toward the north and the goal of my 100-mile walk into autumn.

I can report that my week of wandering north has brought me full into the lovely colors which are always part Wisconsin's promise.

Almost every mile shows me a change in the switch from summer to fall, and I am delighted by the slight alterations I can see so readily as I move along my route.

Sunday to be Colorful

I have observed the maples turn yellow and scarlet; I have seen the oaks take on the beginning of their soon-to-come red, and I have noticed geese heading into the south in their impressive V formations. Autumn will surely be well upon our state by Sunday; Wisconsin will gaudy, bright and beautiful.

As everywhere, I find the little communities I pass through are surprisingly unaware of their histories, and I deplore this, and I have scolded many citizens for

Oconto River

Let it be observed that Pulcifer was named for an early settler, John Pulcifer. Let it be observed also that the town lies against the Oconto river, beautifully impressive, with a fine little park. The park was created by the Pulcifer Sportsmen club who's members should be proud indeed. The park looks over a handsome waterfall which, back-dropped by the colored leaves of the autumn-touched hardwoods, is beautiful.

I near the end of my journey—Suring, only 14 miles from here. But there is a need upon me to halt briefly to do a chore, upon which more later.

their apathy. All agree that they should know about their town—but they do not.

checks stop at the same time his does?

A. Yes. A widow under 62 may receive social security checks on her deceased husband's record only if she has a child in her care who is entitled to benefits. If you file another application when you are 62, your checks could begin again.

Q. I am a widow 63 and I am drawing social security disability benefits on my own work record. My roomer has asked me to marry him. Would this marriage affect my monthly checks?

A. No. A worker receiving disability benefits on her own social security record would receive these benefits regardless of her marital status.

Q. We have an adopted grandson who will receive benefits on my husband's social security record. I have been informed by the social security office that I will be eligible for benefits because I take care of the boy. I am 63. My grandson is only 15. Will the benefits I could receive now cause a reduction in the amount of my monthly check after I am 65?

A. No. You would be receiving benefits as a mother with child, entitled to benefits, in your case — not as a wife 63 years old. Therefore when you receive wife's benefits at 65, there will be no reduction in the amount you will receive.

The social security administration office is in the courthouse annex, 401 S. Elm street, Appleton.

How Long for Fidel?

The Castro government in Cuba is making what appears to be an obvious bid for all the communist aid it can get — perhaps because help is so badly needed or perhaps in an effort to blackmail the United States into a more enthusiastic reaction to the changes Fidel Castro has been making. But it becomes more and more apparent that the changes really are just more of the same sort of thing which Cuba has experienced for generations.

At the United Nations General Assembly meeting last month Cuba was the only Western Hemisphere member who didn't vote against Red China's recognition. Various government officials have made provocative statements denouncing past relations with the United States while demanding some $30 million in aid. The minister of state recently insisted that Cuba does not have "to make a choice between the capitalist solution and the communist solution."

But if Castro is to stay in power there must be some sort of solution to the growing signs of economic collapse in a country hardly ever healthy financially. New taxes on imports, while probably meant as revenue, actually will regulate if not prohibit much U. S.-Cuban trade. Luxury imports are taxed at 100 per cent and items like washing machines, chocolate, crackers and canned fruits and soups are nearly as high. U. S. private investment amounts to practically nothing since the investors saw the dangers after Castro's land reform program and regulations on home ownership. And the dollar per bottle tax on rum hits Cubans just as hard as the tourist trade which once was a prime industry.

It is easy to understand the idealistic aim in such regulations against foreign economic control. But Cuba's foreign exchange reserves are down to a drastically low level. All the idealism in the world cannot fill empty stomachs although it probably can soothe the hunger pains for a while.

With the present trend of Cuban economics and politics, it is only a question of time until the idealistic fervor thins and the secret police, the dungeons and the firing squads will have to fill in. Speculators have only to look at Cuba's past for an answer as to how a volatile people react when they are disillusioned and hungry.

The Things We 'Know' That Are Not So

People around the world are annoyed because other people believe things about them that are not so.

Recently about 700 representatives and observers from 74 nations attended the convention of the World Federation of Organizations of the Teaching Profession which met in New York for the first time since its establishment in 1952. The delegates represented three million teachers.

A survey conducted during the sessions indicated that the schools in 27 of the nations were attempting to promote better understanding among the different cultures of the world. It was brought out that teachers in the Philippines would like to have other children taught that the islands are not a land of bushmen and scantily clad savages. Likewise, Haiti teachers think that the school children in other lands should be taught that voodoo on the islands is not a cannibalistic rite. The Dutch teachers are annoyed at the belief held in many other countries that Dutch all wear wooden shoes.

Other popular misconceptions which were listed and objected to in the survey included such notions that Scots habitually wear kilts and play bagpipes, that Liberia once was a colony of the United States, that Chinese women all bind their feet, that kangaroos are all over the place in Australia, and that the Africans were uncultured before the Europeans came to the dark continent.

Most of those replying to the questions in the survey also see the need for better knowledge of history and geography. Improvement in college would eliminate most of the misconceptions listed above and would do much to improve relations all around the world.

Education is a slow process and it will be a long time before even such ordinary misunderstanding as indicated by the survey can be wiped out. In the meantime those wishing to promote good will would be well advised to avoid expressing any snap judgments about the policies and practices of other nations.

The fact is that most people around the world are not very different and those who have practices different from ours usually have good reasons for what they do.

Choosing a National Flower

Now while congress is adjourned and people can think quietly without distracting oratory it may be a good time to consider the choice of a national flower. Miss Margo Cairns of Minneapolis who is known as the "corn tassel lady" has just forwarded to newspapers her latest mailing in support of the corn tassel for the national flower.

Miss Cairns began her campaign in January, 1955, when a resolution was introduced in both houses of congress to make the rose our national floral emblem. Miss Cairns says she was so shocked by the proposal that she launched a vigorous protest. Today Miss Cairns regards the problem as a matter of choice between the corn tassel and the rose. Other flowers have been proposed such as the carnation and a senator from the bluegrass state has urged that the choice be grass.

Miss Cairns brushes those suggestions aside as unworthy of notice and centers her attacks on the rose. The rose, she said, is England's flower by historic right. "The War of the Roses between the rival houses of Lancaster and York, and the resulting years of suffering, established that right. The rose is a symbol of England's sufferings and her victory. Would it not be indelicate to dim the luster of England's patriotism by claiming her symbol as ours?" She has more to say about the rose having been embroidered on Queen Elizabeth's wedding dress and exquisite bridal veil. She adds that it appears frequently on the queen's evening gowns and is created of pearls and diamonds in her courtly jewels. Thus, she says, as a national emblem the rose belongs to England.

However, she is even more persuasive when she turns to the corn tassel. Corn, she says, is everywhere in this nation. She says it is to be found, in the breakfast bacon, the pages of the Congressional Record, in aspirin tablets, in flashlight batteries, in candy bars and in material for parachutes.

She admits that roses supply beauty and fragrance for bridal processions, but she adds quickly:

"Corn is at every wedding, more than roses. It is in the paper used in the wedding invitations, in the adhesive on the envelopes, on the postage stamps. It is in the starch in the collars of all men present — and in their shoe polish. It is in the organdy dresses and many other fabrics, in the ribbons marking the aisle, in the lace and the tulle bows on the bouquets, in the preservative used to keep the flowers beautiful, in many converted forms — meat, chicken, turkey, eggs — corn is present at every bridal breakfast, luncheon and dinner. A staunch friend is corn, an indispensable one, its wealth of fruitage making all these luxuries possible."

Miss Cairns has her argument for the corn tassel accompanied by a photograph of herself wearing a corsage made of corn tassels. This is to show the beauty and appropriateness of the corn tassel as the national floral emblem.

Her final argument is that "the maize flower or corn tassel belongs to the United States, to 'we, the people.' It is ours by divine and historic right. It is already our national floral emblem. It always has been. The honor needs only to be confirmed."

Florists across the nation are now conducting a poll on the national flower. Persons wishing to vote will have no difficulty in finding a ballot box in a flower shop.

Brown Co. Town Told It Can't Save Money by Becoming City

From The Green Bay Press Gazette

The advocates of the formation of a fourth class city comprising a major portion of the town of Preble have made their positions clear and it now is up to the people of the town to decide whether they can support those views.

Some people in the town may view these spokesmen as courageous individuals who are attempting to save the town of Preble from the encroachment of the cruel ogre — Green Bay. That no doubt was their intention. However, many other people will read their remarks with a feeling of discouragement if not sorrow that the leaders of an important community like Preble could pitch their discussion on a level so low as to overlook any consideration of the betterment of the entire community.

To shout that Green Bay "doesn't have a damn thing to offer us" may sound good to the speaker in the heat of the argument, but it must be embarrassing to him later for he certainly knows, as most of the other people in this community know, that neither he nor the town of Preble would be about at all if it were not for the city of Green Bay.

Other speakers at the recent meeting attempted to convince their listeners that the town of Preble would be better off taxwise in the future as a fourth class city than as a part of Green Bay. One speaker said that there would be no increase in taxes if Preble should form a fourth class city but that there most assuredly would be an increase if they voted to join the city of Green Bay. We don't know how convincing that statement was but we sincerely doubt if the future events will bear it out. The fact of the matter is that Preble will almost certainly have an increase in taxes in the future whether it joins the city or not. The town of Preble has been doing very well in the matter of increasing its taxes in recent years. The people of that community are demanding additional services and they must be paid for. There is no easy way out.

We are quite confident that it could easily be shown that if Preble had joined the city of Green Bay several years ago before they undertook the construction of their high school that they now would be satisfied citizens of the city of Green Bay, that they would have better school facilities than they have now and that it would have cost them less. Most any resident of Preble who considers that statement carefully will come to agree with it. The claim that the people of Preble will pay higher taxes if they join the city of Green Bay than if they operate their own city is a possibility but not a certainty. But the implication that the people of Preble are being enticed into the city to help pay the city's costs is unwarranted by the facts.

It is practically certain that if the town of Preble or any portions of it should join the city of Green Bay that will add considerably to the expense of operating the city of Green Bay. There can be no doubt but what it would cost the city of Green Bay many thousands of dollars to take in Preble, to extend the city services to it as would be necessary to make the residents full-fledged citizens of Green Bay. Nevertheless, we believe that the city should be so extended even at the additional expense because it will be better for the entire community including the people of Preble in the long run.

Most of the people who spoke at the Preble High school last Wednesday are well aware of the fact that some day the town of Preble, or the area that is now the town of Preble, will eventually become a part of the city of Green Bay. Supposing it is merely fighting a delaying action this will prove very expensive to the people of Preble and also to the people of Green Bay before it is eventually settled.

Every large city in the United States has grown by the attachment of suburban areas. It is inevitable that cities expand and take in their suburbs. It is necessary to provide the proper government for all of the people in the community. Green Bay has an excellent city government. Its taxes are reasonable when compared with any city in the United States its size. The services provided by the city of Green Bay are the up-to-date services required for a

Fall Fashions at Pettibone's

79 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Oct. 9, 1880.

The most interesting event of the present week to the ladies was the semi-annual opening of Pettibone's store which took place on Wednesday.

The ladies were profuse in their delight and admiration. Plush appears to be very popular this fall and withal economical, as a little goes a long way as trimming. Cloaks are rendered very attractive looking trimmed with this material. Jet and gimp ornaments for cloaks also were exhibited with fringes, gimps, cords and tassels, sprinkled with jet.

Some handsome bonnets and hats were shown and everyone was delighted with the opening, voting it a success.

Educated Citizens Are Cultural Assets

BY FRED HARRINGTON
University of Wisconsin vice president in charge of academic affairs

Madison — Read the article about the university in the current issue of Harpers. You are likely to disagree with the author, David Boroff, on numerous points; but you will find the article extremely interesting.

Mr. Boroff does not like everything he sees at our university. He feels that many students are too interested in social activities; and he is not sure that the university is right in its generous admissions policy. But he does find Wisconsin one of America's great universities. As he sees it, even the undergraduate trudging up Bascom Hill "sees the vision."

Are we boasting when we quote such statements? Yes, but it is a special kind of boastfulness. We are reflecting pride in our traditions; and we are recognizing the achievements of the people of Wisconsin. For one thing is absolutely clear — the university belongs to the citizens of this state. By their support, these citizens have built the university. Only by their support can the university remain outstanding.

SUPPORT

Will this support be forthcoming? We believe it will, because of pride in the university, and because of a growing conviction that money spent on the university and state colleges represents a wise investment in Wisconsin's future.

Part of the return is direct. The university trains young people for specific careers; and we all know the nation's needs for teachers and lawyers, scientists and engineers. Even more important is general education — preparing university students in every specialty for the job of being good citizens and leaders in this complicated world.

The university has more than 25,000 students in Madison, Milwaukee and the extension centers. There will be twice that many in a dozen years. This is a staggering thought. So staggering, in fact, that some say the university cannot possibly educate so many without sacrificing quality — and in any case the state cannot foot the bill. These spokesmen of calamity therefore modern city. When Green Bay reaches out for adjoining territory it reaches also for additional expense. This has been proved over and over again and will be proved again in the future suggest (1) that we educate a smaller fraction of our young men and women, or (2) that we make the students pay the cost, by dramatically increasing fees and tuition.

The people of Wisconsin are unlikely to accept such proposals. The state would suffer if we reduced opportunities for higher education. Wisconsin needs trained specialists and broadly educated citizens. To be sure, we must screen out those unsuited for higher education; but we must also identify and encourage gifted students who now stop short of college. The latter effort, of course, will increase enrollment.

CHALLENGE

Many increased fee proposals challenge the basic theory of public higher education. University training does help the individual, and he should pay part of the cost. But university training also helps society. Wisconsin created its university and state colleges because educated citizens are economic, political and cultural assets to the state. This is fundamental, and explains why the people of Wisconsin will not want to limit educational opportunity by drastic revision of the fee schedules.

Maintaining quality is a problem; but it can and will be solved. Indeed, the University has high hopes of improving quality of teaching, research and public service as enrollment mounts.

Some talk about a bygone Golden Age at the university. Actually, the citizens of Wisconsin and their universities now face opportunities greater than ever before. This is our vision as we climb Bascom Hill. This is the vision of the people of Wisconsin.

Laws Don't Cover Who Owns Seas

The extraction of minerals from the sea may require new international laws to determine "who owns the sea," suggests an editorial in Engineering and Mining Journal.

As matters stand now, it appears that whoever gets out first with the best equipment will establish incontestable mining "claim" rights. Production rather than location may thus determine who owns the mineral rights to the sea.

Current international laws would be hard to live with in the face of recent oceanographic discoveries that revealed approximately 14.2 million square miles of ocean floor contain economically mineable manganese deposits. These deposits are said to total some 200-billion tons of nodules, averaging .5 per cent each of nickel, copper and cobalt — enough to supply the world for hundreds of years to come.

One of the huge nodule deposits was discovered in the Blake Plateau, about 200 miles east of the U. S., in 1958.

"What would happen if Russia or some other government quietly set up a sea platform in the Blake Plateau area and started to pump out rich manganese nodules on a large tonnage basis?" asks the publication.

"Could the U. S. with the largest steel industry in the world, but decidedly anemic manganese resources, afford to sit idly by without putting another dredge in the field? And if it did, how would the claims be staked out?"

Imagines Conditions on Moon After Germs Survive

From The Boston Globe

Conditions on the moon being at that time completely aseptic, some germs that survived the flight of the rocket sent by the amalgam of nations known then as the Soviet Socialist Republics (later incorporated into the ancient Chinese Democracy) developed primordial conditions of life much more rapidly than had occurred on the earth.

Within a thousand years water and fish had appeared, and in the next thousand ambulatory vertebrates. Within another 500 years, a winged, rational being known as the pteromunculus lus (a sort of dwarf with webbed wings) had developed and within another millennium had assorted a technological mastery over the moon.

Family alignment widened into tribal concerns. Severed disagreements occurred about the band of twilight between the foreside and the backside of the moon which was more comfortable for Pteromunculus life than most sections of the planet's arid regions. There a good deal of irrigation and hard work was necessary to sustain pteromunculus culture.

The insistence of one branch of those winged creatures that their determinations alone should be supreme, and could only be firmly throughout the moon, led to what had been called, in antique days, an arms race. Within a century or so the pteromunculus had developed a volcanic ash bomb so powerful that it was possible to blow the moon into two separate parts.

The leaders of the two factions then met to decide how long the two pieces of the moon would continue habitably in orbit if they were irrevocably split apart. Unfortunately, they quarreled irreconcilably over what they meant by "irrevocably" and what was meant by "split" and what was meant by "apart" and what was meant by "meant."

The first big East-West cultural exchange came quickly in the wake of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting—bringing together the White Sox and the Dodgers.

Sen. Kennedy will barnstorm Nebraska for nine days. His critics claim he's too young, but nine days in Nebraska should make an old man out of anybody.

Ike golfs for his cold at Palm Springs. The cold war thawed so swiftly, he began to sneeze in the slush.

On the presidency, Sen. Humphrey says he's "engaged" and hopes for a wedding. As for the vice-presidency, he's got a little insurance by making eyes at the bride's kid sister.

Republican planners announce 17-year party goals. Asked for a look ahead, the committee shuddered—and decided to skip the next four elections.

Q—Are lady drivers better than men? A—Certainly. No person at fault in a traffic snarl has ever been accused of being a lady.

Public Works Board Compiles Project List

Program to be Considered for Budget in 1960 Would Mean $213,530 Expenditure

Kaukauna — The board of public works and Robert Natrip, city engineer, have compiled an outline of public work projects which must be carried through in the city, some of which are to be included in the 1960 budget.

Board members feel it is one of the most comprehensive outlines set up in many years and is a start toward long range planning for projects. The estimated cost is $213,530, far above money appropriated for public works in other years.

Public works projects for 1959 amounted to $61,125. Board members are expected to review the outline and select major items which must be handled next year. Curb and gutter projects are the major item in the outline. Estimated cost is set at $69,500, although much of this is returned through special assessments. An estimate of 39,800 running feet is proposed.

Where Contemplated Work is contemplated on Grant, Washington, Garfield, McKinley and Arthur streets from Lawe street to Green Bay road; on Highway 96 from Lawe north to the city limits; on Division from Lawe to Lincoln street; on Plank road from Green Bay road to Florence street; on Florence from Plank road to Claribel and on River street from Wisconsin avenue to Riverside park.

Other curb and gutter projects are Main avenue from Seventeenth to Henry street; E. Nineteenth street from Lehrer lane east; on Lehrer lane and Oakridge avenue from E. Eighteenth to E. Twelfth to E. Seventeenth inclusive from Main to Crooks.

Sewer Separation Next largest project is storm sewer programs, five of which mean separation of storm water from sanitary sewer lines. These projects, costing $10,300, are on DuCharme street from Roosevelt to Grignon streets and from Blackwell to Desnoyer streets; on Metoxen avenue from E. Seventh to E. Eighth street and on Elm street to the river east of the High school. The final separation project is miscellaneous work to be carried out by city crews in alleys.

Storm sewer installation projects, estimated at $35,230, are planned on W. Thirtieth street from Glenview to Kenneth avenue; on Kenneth and Glenview from W. Thirtieth to south of W. Fifteenth; on W. Seventeenth from Glenview to Kenneth and from Main avenue to the ditch east of Hendricks and on Henry street from Crooks avenue to Welhouse drive.

Other storm sewer projects include Main avenue from Henry street to a point north and from Ann street to a point south; on Welhouse drive to a point north; on Augustine street from the Grignon home to the Chicago and North Western Railway tracks and on Brothers street from Kaukauna street to Railway street.

Five sanitary sewer projects listed at $43,750 include Welhouse drive from Henry to Ann streets, Henry street from Main avenue to Welhouse drive, Lehrer lane from E. Nineteenth to E. Twentieth; E. Twentieth from Lehrer lane east and on Dodge street to E. Thirtieth.

Other Projects Street resurfacing is planned on Main avenue between Third and Fourth streets, costing $5,500 and six blocks of miscellaneous city streets costing $13,500 for a total resurfacing budget of $19,000.

Sidewalk installation planned will cost $9,150 for 5,720 feet. Work is planned on Sarah street from Lawe to Desnoyer, on E. Nineteenth from Lehrer lane east, on E. South Lehrer lane from Eighteenth to Nineteenth, on Augustine from DuCharme to Grignon home, on Main avenue from Seventeenth to Henry and on the north side of S. Tenth street from Eden avenue to Brill road.

A shelter for LaFollette park is expected to cost $3,500; purchase of a parking lot is expected to cost $2,500.

Equipment purchases planned include a new truck cost-

Women Told Loved Child Results in a Better Student

Kimberly — A panel of Kimberly public school teachers, headed by Ray Ham-mann, principal, informed Homemakers a child who feels secure and loved at home makes the best student.

The panel stressed family togetherness for the young child as this results in the best adjusted pupil when beginning school and results in less attention demanded of the teacher.

All agreed the misbehavior problem in the village was at a minimum but when it did arise, it could be traced to lack of interest by the parents.

Others on the panel were Warren Jarvis, Mrs. Nancy Frankowiak and James Koehn.

Year's Project Members voted to bring favorite recipes to future meetings to be reviewed and compiled into booklet for next spring as the organization's annual project.

Plans were announced for saving coffee can strips to be redeemed for Christmas gifts for children in orphanages.

Afternoon matinee at a theater and stop at a shopping center.

Tables were decorated in a fall motif for the lunch hour after the meeting.

KHS Faces Bulldogs in M-E Contest

Kimberly — With an eye on a first division spot Kimberly High school will travel to New London in a Mid-Eastern conference game Friday night.

The Papermakers have a 1-1 record after a 21 to 7 loss to leading Neenah last week. New London has dropped two games, failing to score against Two Rivers or Clintonville.

Coach Jim Nirschl will be relying on a strong passing attack mixed with Darrell Jansen's running in the game with the Bulldogs.

Quarterback Don Hearder has Tom Rooyackers, Rick Polman and Jansen as favorite targets for aerials. Last week he went to the air 21 times despite a wet field after evening rains.

Kimberly has defeated Menasha in league play and lost a non-conference tilt to St. John of Little Chute.

Last of Quartet in Wild Chase, Fight Gets Year's Probation

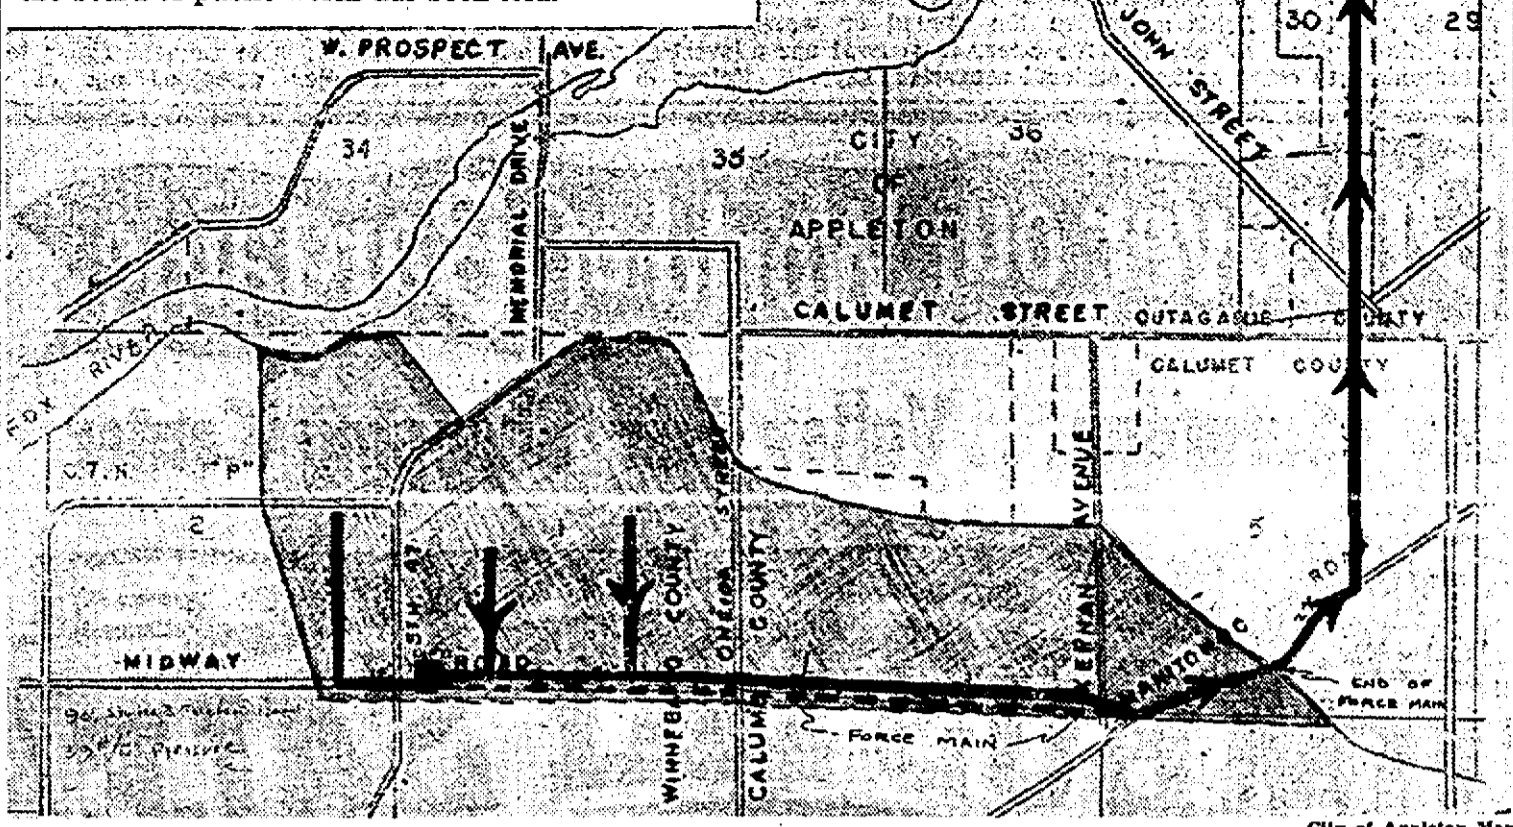

The last of four youths involved in a wild chase and street fight in Waupaca county and Bear Creek Sept. 11 has been placed on probation for a year by Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede. The youth previously was ordered to appear in court if he could not join the service.

Gordon E. Palmer, 20,

Broad street, New London, also was ordered to pay $4.45 court costs. His companions were fined or placed on probation.

The quartet was arrested in a Shiocton tavern after they were traced from the Bear Creek street fight. They evaded Waupaca police after a high-speed chase punctuated by the youths throwing beer bottles and an empty case from their car.

South Expansion of Appleton The 200 acres in the shaded area was looked forward to Wednesday by the city council. Engineers were ordered to design the first leg of the sewer interceptor (heavy black line) large enough to eventually handle all sewage from the 1,200 acres. Interceptor will serve recently annexed and platted areas at east city limits initially. Interceptor and the three trunks shown would cost about $430,000 at today's prices, the board of public works has been told.

Dooley Talk Tickets Still Available

Tickets for two talks Oct. 16 by Dr. Thomas Dooley III, U. S. physician and surgeon who spent two years in Laos and one in Vietnam aiding natives, still are available.

Members of two Appleton women's groups will sell tickets Friday and Saturday.

Members of King's Daughters will sell tickets between 1 and 9 p.m. Friday at the H. C. Prange and J. C. Penney stores, the First National and the Appleton State banks.

Members of the Outagamie County Medical society auxiliary will sell tickets between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. Friday at Valley Fair Shopping center, and between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday at Penney's and Prange's.

Tickets to the noon luncheon at the Conway hotel cost $10, $8.50 of which may be deducted for income tax purposes. Tickets for the 8:30 p.m. speech at Lawrence Memorial chapel are $1 and are tax deductible. All proceeds go to MEDICO, a foundation established by Dooley to set up hospitals in underprivileged areas.

Tickets also are being sold all week at meetings of Appleton service clubs and at the three Appleton banks and Penney's and Prange's.

Restaurant Men Deny Beating Youth in Alley

Frank Pierre, 30, of 1016 W. Summer street, and Pat Earle, 33, of 1528 N. Appleton street, co-owners of the Pizza Palace, 743 W. College avenue, have denied beating a youth near the restaurant and posted $53.95 bonds each for trial April 18.

The two are accused by Walter Skinner, 17, of 1351 W. Prospect avenue, who was hospitalized Sept. 27 several hours after an altercation with Earle and Pierre in an alley near the restaurant over a bill.

Earle and Pierre say Skinner walked out of the restaurant without paying a 55-cent check. Skinner says he paid a waitress. Skinner says Earle beat him up in the alley. Earle says he hit Skinner in self-defense as a group of 10 to 15 youths surrounded the pair.

Skinner was treated for swollen lips and facial bruises and was held in the hospital overnight for observation.

Earle has since called Appleton police to complain of "juvenile delinquents" and youths leaving without paying checks.

CD Planning Bills Signed by Nelson

Post-Crescent News Service

Madison — Two bills for carrying on government functions in time of attack have been signed into law by Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

The two civil defense measures provide a legal basis for the governor to declare an emergency and move the headquarters of state government and enable cities and counties to make similar plans. The new law calls for the governor in such an emergency to move government functions to Stevens Point, the emergency capital under the state civil defense plan. However, the law gives the governor authority to move state headquarters anywhere in the state or outside it.

The law relating to city and county government, provides authority to make plans for appointment of temporary officers in emergencies, to define the limit of their emergency powers and to establish conditions for the termination of the emergency appointments and powers.

U. S. Liberation Policy Altered to Status Quo

Administration Realizes Hope for Freeing East Germans Lies Only Within Germany

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Washington — As the state department has admitted, all planning for the future summit meeting is being put off until after the British elections. Only then will a time and place be chosen.

Alsop.

None the less, the chances are good that the summit meeting will be held soon. President Eisenhower is anxious to get the rally over with before the next session of congress. Thus the outlook is for a gathering in late November or early December, probably in Geneva because of Gen. de Gaulle's objections to any discussion outside Europe.

The further outlook is for a subsequent meeting of the foreign ministers or their deputies, to negotiate about Berlin and other urgent matters on the basis of instructions agreed on at the summit.

No Miracle Foreseen
Maybe Nikita S. Khrushchev's amiability will produce a different outcome. Yet a glance at the forecast by the American policy makers is enough to show that policy makers do not think the Eisenhower - Khrushchev meeting at Camp David created the conditions for a miracle at the summit.

There is the same meaning in the policy makers' insistence on the importance of Khrushchev's promise there would be no fixed time limit on future talks about Berlin. Relief because talking can go on indefinitely implies belief that the talks may have to be very protracted to attain a result. According to one forecaster, the Berlin problem is likely to remain unsettled for another year and more — which should have interesting effects on the 1960 election.

Meanwhile, it begins to be possible to define the new American negotiating position. A subtle but important change of position began long before Camp David. It offers the hope of achievement at the summit. In brief, the former American negotiating position was darkly haunted by the ghost of the liberation policy. The policy itself always was a political fake. It was buried a few months after the Eisenhower administration took office, when the great opportunity of the East German rising in June, 1953, was nervously rejected. But the ghost of this fake long remained a powerful specter, preventing any gesture that seemed to imply recognition of the post war status quo in eastern Europe.

Status Quo Recognized
This ghost now is being laid by the president himself. We now are preparing for informal recognition of status quo, including unprotesting acceptance of a separate Soviet peace treaty with East Germany. But certain conditions must be fulfilled before the president will take this step.

The main condition is guaranteeing the integrity and continuing freedom of West Berlin. On this point, the president is adamant. Meanwhile, there is a violent conflict as to Khrushchev's willingness to fulfill the president's great condition.

On the one hand, it is known that when he was in this country, Khrushchev was very free in his guarantees of West Berlin's future. He almost seemed to ask the president to write his own ticket on this point. On the other hand, Khrushchev also was rougher with the president than most people suppose. And the Soviet protocol submitted at Geneva also contained a series of concealed fishhooks that could have been spotted by an infant, such as a promise that the raw material needs of West Berlin's industry would be supplied by the eastern bloc.

Stabilization Difficult
The great question is whether Khrushchev believed it is possible for the west "to recognize the status quo," as he is always demanding, while the west continues to protect free Berlin. All Khrushchev's agitation about recognizing the status quo is really agitation to stabilize the situation in eastern Europe. Anyone can see it is doubtful whether East Germany can ever be stabilized,

Three AHS Graduates In Advanced Classes

Three 1959 Appleton High school graduates now enrolled at universities have been assigned to advanced classes in English on the basis of placement tests.

At the University of Wisconsin, Mary Metzger and John Council passed freshman English tests and are in an advanced class. Ann McKenny, attending Colorado State college at Fort Collins, Colo., passed both freshman English and chemistry tests and has been put into advanced courses in both subjects.

as long as Berlin remains as a window looking out on freedom.

It also must be said that the new, fact-facing trend of American policy is all to the good. The peoples enchained by communist imperialism are not going to be liberated by American oratory or American military effort. Their liberation, if it comes, will come by their own efforts, and because of the strong internal forces of change within the Soviet system. We may pray they will be liberated, but we can still negotiate with the Soviets without false claims to do what we do not mean to do.

St. Norbert Gives Awards to Former Coach, Student

Two men who made outstanding contributions to St. Norbert college, De Pere, will be given the Alma Mater award during half-time ceremonies at Saturday's homecoming game with St. Ambrose college.

Winners are Thomas F. Hearden, Green Bay, former football coach, and Cletus J. Collom, Detroit, who attended St. Norbert during the 1920's and who built and designed the college's first radio station, WHBY, which has broadcast continuously since 1924.

Hearden guided the football from 1926 to 1953. He coached Green Bay East High school to five Fox Valley championships and a 38-game winning streak. He later coached for the Packers and the University of Wisconsin, but was forced to retire because of illness.

Collom started at St. Norbert college in 1924. It was during his student days that he constructed station WHBY, now in Appleton. The station originally operated from Boyle hall on the campus. In 1937, he started the Well-tonic company, Detroit, and has seen it grow into four firms employing 200 people. The award was inaugurated in 1957 to recognize alumni for "vocational success, supported by outstanding service in Christian life."

Public Opinion Could Settle Steel Strike

But Principles,
Facts Involved
Aren't Understood

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Right in front of our eyes a test of the strength of the democratic system is going on. The steel strike has produced such big losses to the public that many people are urging the government to step in and "do something." This is supposed to lead to a "settlement." It could lead to state capitalism, the very thing Mr. Khrushchev says will be the victorious system of the future.

Once the people give up control of their own affairs in peacetime and decide to let the government fix wages and prices, the party in power will be in a position to decide everything else—including the government's use of tax money as capital to buy up the steel industry, the railroads and any other business.

The bystanders who want the Taft-Hartley act invoked know at the end of the 80-day "cooling off" period under that law there is no legal obligation upon either the employers or the unions to agree to a settlement. The invoking of government injunctions to bring the workers back to the plants doesn't settle anything.

What then is the solution? If it is not to be a government-imposed settlement, what can be done? Is compulsory arbitration a way out? The answer to this is that it depends on which side has the political influence to choose the arbitrators.

Public Decision
The only democratic way to bring about the settlement of big strikes is by laying the case in all its details before the court of public opinion. If the American people, including the workers themselves, could really get a clear picture of the principles involved, there is no question about what the verdict would be in each case. For the public, including the workers, can tell what is fair and who is right.

The American people have never been given a thorough understanding of what collective bargaining is or rather what it is supposed to be. If it means that one side makes all the concessions, and that once a point is conceded in a given year it never can be changed, even if economic conditions change, the process is no longer "bargaining." It becomes instead a dictated settlement with one side — the more powerful economic group at the time — becoming the dictator.

Present Principles
If the workers themselves do not get the facts and let their officers decide the issues the dictatorship of a few over the many will have been established.

The issues are not confined merely to the parties to the dispute. The public, it has often been said, is the "party of the third part." If this be so, then a comprehensive presentation of the principles as well as the facts involved in the application of those principles is even more necessary.

For weeks the unions have been complaining that industry had made no offer and that there was no "negotiating" going on. The industry did make an offer in the last few days. It was immediately rejected by the unions as "totally unacceptable."

David McDonald, head of the Steelworkers union, publicly conceded that there would be pension and insurance benefits, but he objected to the unions' paying anything for them. He declared that for the industry and the unions each to pay half of the increased benefits meant a decrease in "take-home pay" for the workers.

Price Increase
Since when is the money contributed toward pension and insurance benefits no longer an investment by the employer and merely a cost to be paid 100 per cent by the employer? Must all "fringe" benefits hereafter be paid for by the employer by means of an increase in wages to cover all such pension and insurance costs?

What is needed is more publicity — more public discussion of the facts underlying the steel dispute.

Unfortunately, too many people say, "Let the government settle it." That's the way to state control of everything, and, if that's coming, there had better be a few apologies offered soon to Mr. Khrushchev.

Asserts Russia Using Capitalistic Methods

Rochester, Ind. — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday night the Soviet Union has had to borrow capitalistic methods to qualify for an economic race with the United States.

Nixon held the limelight at a rally of some 10,000 Indiana Republicans gathered to honor Rep. Charles A. Halleck, veteran second district congressman and house minority leader, at a rally which gave a boost to Halleck's vice presidential ambitions.

The vice president said the United States welcomes competition from the Russians in producing more of the things which raise the people's standard of living. He suggested that the Soviet Union put more of its economic muscle into these fields and less into seeking to extend communism to other nations.

Cars That Float Above Ground May Make Wheel Obsolete

New York — The wheel, used by man for 6,000 years or more may soon be obsolete as the newly-developed, air-cushioned vehicles that can travel a few inches or feet above the ground or water come closer to general use, a national magazine, says.

There are still problems to be solved before the air-car becomes commonplace on the highway or "glide-way," but the vehicle is not a pipe-dream. Major companies are investing money and topflight talent to give the air car a bright future, the magazine states.

This development is a serious threat to the tire and auto parts industries, but it will be many years before the wheel is completely eliminated from vehicles.

The air-cars, already successfully demonstrated, offer certain advantages over wheeled transport. They do not need hard-surface roads, bridges or tunnels. Clear the way for a major obstacle out of a marked traffic lane, and they "glide" from place to place. Savings in road-building and road maintenance costs would be in billions of dollars every year.

The blower systems to provide the air cushion and propulsion would require maintenance, but there also would be a big saving in both original equipment and replacement for tires, rims, brakes, and truck parts.

Fat For Jack Spratt
Nursery rhymes to the contrary, some 28 million Americans—one out of 8 men, women and children between 5 and 45—have a perpetual lean and hungry look and a walking-tick ailment.

The underweight person has serious psychological and emotional problems—sometimes with an added medical problem. Those considered "skinny" frequently are objects of derision and on the wrong end of jokes.

Today, doctors know that in most cases excessive thinness can be easily and pleasantly solved, thanks to the development of a highly palatable calorie-loaded food supplement—known as Lipomul.

Results The frazzled parent no longer frets at Junior who doesn't gain, no matter what Mother feeds him. She fortifies him instead with tablespoons of creamy, delicately-flavored Lipomul.

Lipomul was developed by The Upjohn Company to correct calorie shortages and the nutritional problems these shortages created in patients with disorders of the digestive tract or severe diseases. These patients needed calories to live but were too ill to eat. Astonishing results with these ailing persons soon brought wide acceptance for the food supplement. Soon, it was discovered that it was equally effective for healthy people who were underweight and simply couldn't gain an ounce.

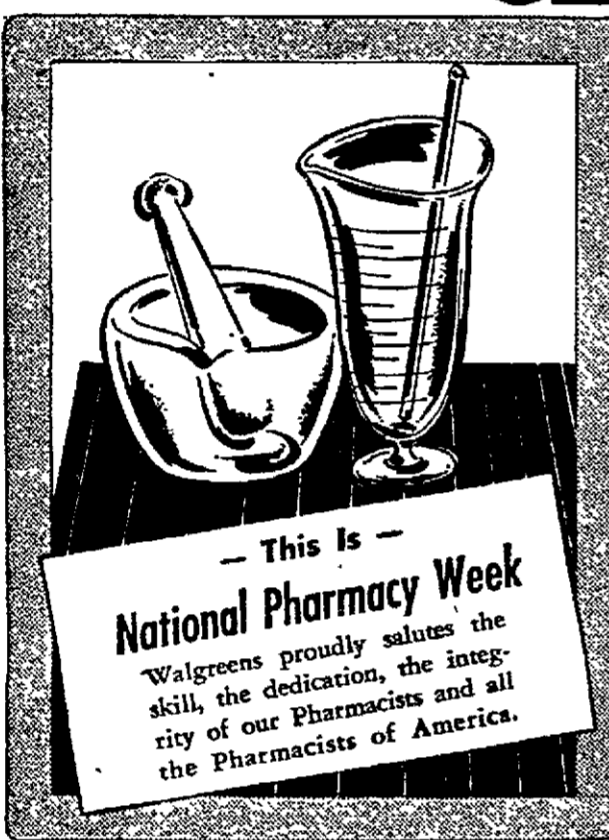

A Harvard Medical School physician, says it isn't unusual for persons who have tried everything and failed to gain weight to put on 5, 10 or even more pounds a month with such a supplement.

In general, he says, the average individual who is healthy but thin may expect to gain a pound for each pound of emulsified vegetable oil in Lipomul.

In view of the current interest in a possible relationship between animal fats and oils and cholesterol in hardening of the arteries and heart disease, it is worth noting that the oil in Lipomul is largely unsaturated and has no cholesterol content.

Lipomul can be taken "as is" right from the bottle. Frozen, it has the taste and consistency of a sherbet. Adults may prefer it in an egg nog, or it can be served up in a variety of flavored drinks.

Revises Proposed Ordinance to Permit Fires at Specified Times

The revised ordinance would provide that no person shall kindle or maintain any fire out-of-doors in the city, except a fire kindled by wood

Sanders Protests 'Revolver at Head' Threat of County

Objectis to Removal of S. Commercial From System

Neenah — A reported offer by the Winnebago county highway committee to help the city of Neenah secure reconstruction of S. Commercial street if the city would remove that street from the county trunk system when the job is completed ran into strong criticism at Wednesday night's council meeting.

"I don't like to sign with a revolver at my temple," said Ald. Warren Sanders. "I hope the revolver isn't loaded."

The comment came on a resolution offered by the committee on public works to remove S. Commercial street from the county trunk system from Winnebago avenue to the limits after completion of the reconstruction project. Action on the resolution was deferred.

Mayor Bell explained the city has been hopeful that S. Commercial street could be rebuilt with federal aid.

"The cost is in excess of $300,000. If it can be done as a federal aid job, the cost would be about $125,000 from the city and about $75,000 from the county."

Difference in Aid

The county highway committee indicated it will recommend participation if the city agrees to drop that section of the road from the county highway system when the improvement is completed, he said. The city gets $1,530 per mile in state assistance and the county only $795 per mile.

Salesmen Should Have Read What They Were Selling

Neenah — Four Milwaukee salesmen might have fared better Wednesday if they had read what they were selling.

Instead they had to leave $14.20 each at the police station for not having a canvasser's license.

Police rounded them up after receiving complaints from scattered homes that the salesmen were using high pressure tactics to peddle their wares. One, Roger D. Quinn, 31, Milwaukee, offered to pay the $5 down payment if the housewife would sign the contract to pay the balance.

He even suggested she take money from a piggy bank to make a down payment and wouldn't leave until she had signed for the purchase. He was picked up on Third street and the others, Robert L. Raasch, 21; Claire C. Senft, 18, and Robert J. Wymelenberg, 21, all of Milwaukee, were picked up on E. Columbus avenue, Oak street and Higgins avenue.

They were going house-to-house to sell $44.95 Bibles.

PSC Sets Hearing On Rail Crossing

Neenah — The state public service commission has set 9 a.m. on Oct. 22 as the date for a hearing on the Winnebago avenue crossing at the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks. The hearing will be at the Neenah city hall.

The issues at stake in the hearing are the type of warning system and the type of crossing to be used.

The commission Aug. 18 had approved the city's request to extend Winnebago avenue directly over the railroad track in a straight line, connecting with Washington avenue on the east side of the track, rather than curving north and meeting Washington avenue at a right angle on the west side of the tracks.

Dies at Muscoda

Neenah — A "cabinet" to assist the employee group section of the campaign to expand and improve Theda Clark Memorial hospital was announced Wednesday by Carl R. Geisler, chairman.

On the 7-man cabinet are George Banta, Jr., president of George Banta company; Albert Haack, president of Fox River Local 353 of the Paper Makers union and an employee of Marathon divisions; William R. Kellett, president of Kimberly - Clark corporation;

Neenah Gets Ready For Snow; Sets Rules

24-Hour Deadline for Clearing Walks Approved by City Council

Neenah — The city council got ready for the snow invasion by passing two ordinances regulating removal of snow from sidewalks and along streets.

Passed by a 7 to 2 vote was an ordinance which requires all sidewalks to be shoveled within 24 hours after the end of the snowfall. Those walks not shoveled in that time will be done by city crews after the lapse of an additional 12 hours during which time city officials will serve notice on the owner of that property.

Casting negative votes were Ald. Carl Coenen and Warren Sanders.

Sanders thought the notification plan too cumbersome and that it might interfere with the city walks being shoveled. With heavy snows, the city crews will be busy, he said.

take 20 years to land on the Neenah residents and he hoped the law might be changed by then. He said the need for the reconstruction of S. Commercial street was well known and securing the work as a federal aid project was the best chance for getting the street rebuilt without breaking the backs of the Neenah taxpayers. If Neenah residents had to pay the entire cost, it would be a terrific shock. Sanders reminded the council that S. Park avenue and E. Wisconsin avenue had been on the county trunk system until several years ago when the part in the Town of Neenah was taken off. It was declared then that this meant the part of that county trunk in the city automatically came off but our former city attorney thought this was not the case. Maybe this could be checked into, he suggested.

E. Wisconsin Need
"We are reaching the need now for reconstruction of E. Wisconsin avenue," he added. Ald. James Dinius pointed out that residents of the city often wondered why the city street crews did not maintain S. Commercial instead of waiting for the county to do it. "A change in the law is the crux of the matter." (The issue of S. Commercial street being on the county trunk system has often been raised at county board meetings because the county must maintain the street, for which it receives less state aid per mile than would the city for the same work.)

(The county must pay the cost for reconstructing an 18-foot width of the street, which in the case of S. Commercial street would be three-eighths of the cost not borne by federal aid.)

Gomoll Named Alderman From Seventh Ward

Wins on 5 to 4 Vote of Council Over Dan Luebke

Neenah — Donald R. Gomoll was elected as the new Seventh ward alderman at Wednesday night's meeting of the common council, succeeding Ralph Westland who moved from the state. He will serve until the April election when residents will name an alderman for a 1-year term.

Gomoll received five votes to four for Daniel Luebke, a former alderman for eight years and council president for three years, on the first formal ballot.

On the nominating ballot Gomoll and Luebke had four votes each and William V. Cerny had one vote. Gomoll, who lives at 914 W. Caroline street, was born in Neenah Feb. 26, 1923 and graduated from Neenah High school in 1942. He served three years in the air force, of which one year was in England.

He graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1948 with a degree in mechanical engineering and has been employed at the Neenah Foundry company for 4 1/2 years. He has served also as a Boys' Brigade leader.

He is married and has three children. Mayor Bell indicated he would name Gomoll to the public protection and health and welfare committees of which Westland had been a member.

Driscoll Resigns As Supervisor From 2nd Ward

He is in his first term as a county board member, having been elected in April of 1958. He is a member of the taxation committee. A Second Ward supervisor would be appointed by Mayor Bell and confirmed by the council.

New Chapel Rites

St. Mary Cemetery History Placed in Cornerstone Box

Menasha — History of St. Mary cemetery and its new chapel project lie in a copper box behind the cornerstone placed Wednesday.

Parish cemetery board members and the Rev. Donald Stoebauer, assistant pastor of St. Mary, took part in the cornerstone laying rites.

The new chapel will stand near the cemetery entrance on County Trunk P. It will have face and glass brick interior and exterior, with interior wooden beam roof construction. The cross-shaped building's dimensions will be 39 by 55 feet. It will have a ground-level seating capacity of about 40 persons.

Also in the project is a 34 by 24 foot brick maintenance shed, in which tools and the truck will be stored. The well pump and water storage tank also will be inside the shed. It will stand on the site of the old shed.

The cemetery history in the cornerstone box says the first burial was of Joseph Schipferling in 1865. Twelve years passed before the next burial was recorded in the plat — that of H. Fuchsgruber in 1877.

The first upkeep assessments against cemetery lots were in 1915 — $1.50 for a full (8-grave) lot. Clem Laemmerich, cemetery manager and secretary, says "I can well recall many lot owners taking their own mowers and sickles to the cemetery and caring for their own lots. It was in the 1920's when the entire cemetery, regardless who paid for upkeep, that the grass was cut and the cemetery kept in order."

Perpetual care went into effect in 1930, when a full 8-grave lot sold for $80 and a half-lot at $40.

The first cemetery board was formed in 1929, consisting of the former pastor, the Rev. John Hummel, president; Matt W. Stulp, treasurer; Laemmerich, secretary; and Edward H. Schrage and John M. Hoheisel, members. On Stulp's death, Jacob Liebl was appointed.

The present board consists of the Rev. Joseph A. Becker, pastor and president; Laemmerich, vice president, secretary and manager; Richard Laemmerich, assistant secretary; Edward Resch, treasurer; and Ray Fink, Walter Schmitzer and Robert Mielke, members. Mielke was appointed after the Feb. 6, 1958 death of Jacob Liebl, who donated the cemetery's self-closing gates. Cost of the two buildings on the cemetery totals $38,800, including $1,680 architect fees.

Participating in the ceremony Wednesday were all cemetery board members except Resch, and Architect George Narovec of Appleton.

'Nose Bag' Lunch Introduces Work For Girl Scouts in Twin Cities

Neenah — A "nose bag" lunch at Riverside park helped the Ervin Lange family, the Red Feather family, learn the story of the Girl Scouts operations in the Twin Cities, one of the agencies helped by the Neenah-Menasha Community Chest fund drive now underway.

The Langes joined some 300 Scouts at a sack lunch picnic at the park recently and heard how the Girl Scouts are providing a well-balance program of fun, adventure and service projects for the community's girls from the third grade through high school.

Mrs. N. T. Gilbert, director of the Winnebago district of the Fox River area Girl Scouts, told the Langes that 1,400 Neenah and Menasha girls are participating in the troop activities of the Brownies, Intermediates and Senior Girl Scouts. More than 100 volunteer adult leaders and 200 committee members, both men and women, assist in the local scouting program.

The program, Mrs. Gilbert said, also depends to a large extent on the generosity of many others in Neenah and Menasha. The Girl Scouts' share of the 1959 Community Chest fund drive goal of $126,400 is $11,050.

This $11,050 represents 20 per cent of the budget for the Fox River area Girl Scouts for this year. Neenah-Menasha girls account for 30 per cent of the Scouts registered in the area.

Nearly half of the Girl Scout funds are used to maintain three day camps and the Chalk Hills resident summer camp for the girls. Last summer 263 Girl Scouts from Neenah and Menasha attended camp.

The remainder of the funds are used to pay wages and salaries of Fox River area staff members, to buy supplies and to meet the expenses of rent, insurance, repairs, publicity and education.

The local Girl Scout activities, like those of Girl Scout troops throughout the world, are based on fun as well as service to home, community and country.

Types of Activities

The girls camp, hike, cook outdoors, play games and learn about nature, first aid and home nursing. But they also assist in community fund drives, serve as aides at Thea Clark Hospital and in Twin City libraries or make needed articles for hospital patients or shut-ins.

And through all of these activities, the girls are learning the art of working together to become better citizens and the joy of helping others.

Because the Girl Scouts is a national and international organization, Mrs. Gilbert said, the girls have an opportunity to broaden their knowledge of other people and places. This summer four girls from the Twin Cities attended the national Girl Scout roundup in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The Girl Scout program is providing a community service in another way. Mrs. Gilbert told the Langes. It is providing trained leaders through its leadership courses for adult scout volunteers and it offers leadership opportunities to the girls, thus helping them become finer individuals.

Girl Scouts Wendy Whitlinger, center, and Sharon Lloyd, right, of Neenah share the secrets of their sack lunches with Koralyn Lange, 15, left, a member of the Red Feather family of the Neenah - Menasha Community Chest campaign. Koralyn, who visited a Girl Scout picnic, told the two girls about her family's visits to agencies that benefit from chest funds.

Neenah May Ban Burning In Backyards

health and welfare committee brought in the revised ordinance to ban all burning, said the change was proposed because of the good rubbish pickup service and because in some places neighbors might be inconsiderate.

He said he hoped the change would "smoke out all arguments on both sides" as there had been very little comment on the first proposed ordinance regulating rubbish burning.

Mayor Bell added the new ordinance would forbid the burning of leaves as many residents are accustomed to doing. Sometimes the city's leaf pickup might not get back to an area for several weeks. "Is this ordinance primarily for fire safety or air pollution?" Ald. James Dinius asked. "People might wonder why we move so fast where individual burning is involved and more circumspectly regarding industrial pollution." Hansen replied the ordinance was primarily concerned with air pollution and is directed mainly at those who do not recognize their neighbor's rights.

Ald. Warren Sanders commented that the more the committee tried to list what could be done for backyard burning, the more unwieldy the ordinance became and harder to understand as to what could be burned and when.

"Know Solution" "Here we can know the solution to a problem," he said regarding individual air pollution. "The other type requires a more comprehensive ordinance, additional personnel to enforce the industrial pollution control and an added cost." Ald. Leonard Hedberg thought the city should allow families a few days each week to burn leaves or the streets would become littered. "We need something for backyard burning." Hansen said his committee also had discussed the odors coming from the slough in the Washington park area but had no recommendation to make at this time. The odor probably results from the low flow of water and the heavy growth of weeds and probable rotting of vegetation in the slough. Narrowing and deepening the channel to get a faster flow of water might help reduce the odor, he thought.

24-Hours Set As Deadline for Shoveling Snow

city shovels it and charges him, he said.

Ald. James Dinius, street and sanitation committee chairman, said shorter time requirement for clearing the walks was considered but it was felt the 24-hour time would be better. It also was thought the actual cost for the city crews shoveling walks would be better than a fixed fee.

Pushing Snow Into Street

An ordinance passed a month ago regarding plowing snow into the street was amended to clarify its provisions. The new provisions are that no person "shall plow, push or otherwise deposit in the roadway of any public street, the snow from within the lot lines of the property owned or controlled by him, in such manner or in such quantity as to create an obstruction in the roadway or otherwise create a traffic hazard."

It explains that for the purposes of the ordinance "roadway" means that portion of a street or alley between the regularly established curb lines or that portion which is improved, designed or ordinarily used for vehicular travel, excluding the shoulder.

Mayor Bell explained that a person who pushes the snow from his driveway apron or sidewalk into the street is not in violation of the ordinance. "What is forbidden is the removal of snow from within the lot line such as in a parking lot or filling station. This snow pushed into the roads has narrowed the streets and has led to accidents."

Hearings Set On 3 Requests For Rezoning

Local Shopping Asked for Area On Winneconne Ave.

Neenah — Oct. 21 was set as the date for three rezoning hearings and the council Wednesday night referred to the plans commission a petition for rezoning the east side of S. Commercial street from Spruce street to the Chicago and North Western tracks. A change from multiple family to commercial classification is sought for the S. Commercial street section. The rezoning hearings set for Oct. 21 are a change to local shopping classification at the northwest corner of Church street and Winneconne avenue and also the balance of the property along Winneconne avenue between Church and Isabella streets. The latter area was proposed by the plans commission to avoid spot zoning. Also proposed for rezoning at the Greenacres plat of the Gillingham farm to commercial and a group of lots in that area to multiple family. No one appeared at a hearing Wednesday night on the assessments for the installation of sewer and water mains and the grading and graveling of Geiger street from Andrew street to Green Bay road. These assessments were set at $2.22 per front foot for sanitary sewer, $2.58 a foot for water main and $2.32 a foot for the grading and graveling. Resolutions requiring installation of sidewalks on Beloit avenue in front of one lot and also for assessing benefits for the grading and graveling of Pembroke drive from Surrey lane north for 488 feet were approved.

Neenah — Purchase of the use on Oct. 16 at St. Margaret Mary church. The street and sanitation committee reported an inhibitor would be used with the calcium chloride salt used in snow and ice removal to cut down the rusting of cars. The cost of such use was estimated at about $1,000.

The site is located at the southwest corner of E. Columbian avenue and Walnut street and adjoins a site which the council purchased earlier and for which it received the deed Wednesday night.

The money for the land purchase will come from the parking meter receipts.

Transfer of $9,684 for partial payment of architect's fees for the new junior high school, of $1,500 for a sanitation and pruning program to combat Dutch elm disease and of $11,000 for installation of a water main on Grove street between Spruce and Division streets was approved.

Jays, Still Seeking 1st Win, Clash with Two Rivers High

Conclude 4-Game Home Stand In Parents Night Contest

Menasha — Menasha's Blue Jays, who last week missed picking up their first victory by a mere five seconds, again try to get in the win column in a home contest against Two Rivers Friday evening.

Parents night will be observed and, because of these activities, the game will start at 7:30 p.m. at Butte des Morts field.

The contest will be the last of four straight home games for the locals, who make their first out-of-town start next weekend at Clintonville.

The Jays were able to break into the scoring column against Shawano for the first time in three games but victory was pulled from their clutches on a 32-yard pass with about five seconds left to play.

38 Yards Rushing

The Menashans gave up two quick touchdowns and then played good defensive ball until the fatal finish. Their rushing game wasn't up to par, getting only 38 yards. Both scores came via 50 yard and 64-yard pass plays.

In Two Rivers, the Jays meet a club with a good sized line and improved spirit. The Raiders are coached for the first time by Ted Scalissi, who had impressive records at the previous schools where he coached.

The Raiders have five lettermen linemen and four veteran backs. Linemen are Glen Klein, end; Gene Panosh and Mike Juchniwicz, tackles; Glen Anklaam, guard, and Warren Waier, center.

Backs include John Boutin, who can play both halfback and quarterback, track star Lee Oestreich and Todd Easley, halfbacks, and Emory Panosh, fullback.

Past 1-2 Record

The Raiders were beaten by Manitowoc 7-6 in their non-league opener. They then downed New London 19-0 but were humbled by Kaukauna 27-0 last week.

Bill Prange probably will start at an end spot for Menasha, replacing the injured Bob Collins. Dave Ristau is the other wingman with Pete LaValle and Steve Bachhuber, tackles; Paul Beachkofski and Bob Cook, guards; Tom Leopold, center; Jim Stenson, quarterback; Bill Gerhardt and Bob Stumpf, halfbacks; and Bill Ritchie, fullback. Only the guards and quarterbacks are seniors.

Squire, Chuter Backs Still Top FVCC Scorers

Menasha — Fox Valley Catholic conference scoring honors still are equally divided between Joe Schmitt of Pennings and St. John's Ady Ebben, both with 12 points.

Schmitt failed to score against St. Mary Saturday night while Ebben's team was involved in a non-conference game.

Ed Hammen of St. John still holds third with seven points. Mark VanderZanden, Pennings, and Don Karisny and Norm Brown, St. Mary, each have six; John Whitney, Pennings, two; and Pete Snyder, St. Mary, one.

O'Connell's 264 Line Paces Class Wheel

Menasha — William O'Connell jarred a 264 game and start opposite Anklaam at Arnie Zuelke had a 599 series.

Hope We Can Play Up to Our Ability, Neenah Coach Tells

Neenah — Come out Saturday and you'll see a pretty good football game, Coach Marlon Batterman told a large gathering of Neenah Quarterbackers Wednesday night at the Recreation building.

In discussing the weekend Neenah-Clintonville game, the coach said "I hope we can play as well as I know we can."

He expressed disappointment over the Kimberly game, not because of the score (Neenah won 21-7) but because the team didn't play up to its ability and hasn't at any time this year. The coach again declared that the club lacks a natural leader.

Batterman reported that the Rockets are in good shape mentally and physically for Saturday's encounter with the exception of Jim Sauby, who will be held out because of a knee injury.

'Operation Palette' Opens at Museum

Oshkosh — "Operation Palette," an exhibit of 120 paintings and drawings of naval and marine activities in all theaters of operation from World War II to the present, will be at Oshkosh Public museum from Sunday, Oct. 25, through Thursday, Oct. 29.

The exhibit was obtained through the offices of Cmdr. Warren Schofer, who replaced Cmdr. Charles Gibson as commanding officer of Oshkosh and Green Bay Naval Training centers.

An invitational reception is being planned for the opening of the exhibit from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 24.

Because the exhibit, which is on its second tour of the country, is being displayed for only five days, the museum will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Oct. 26 to 29 to accommodate the large number of viewers expected to attend, Stuart Mong, director, has announced.

Viewed by Millions

An estimated 35 million have seen the exhibit since it went on tour in 1946. Segments of the collection of 3,000 works of art have been exhibited in Great Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Australia.

The entire collection, which is valued at a million dollars, will form a part of the National War museum in Washington, D.C.

Realizing the historic and patriotic value of pictorializing combat and operational activities, "Operation Palette" was conceived by the navy shortly after the United States entered the war against Japan in 1941.

Griffith Bailey Coale, a New York muralist and landscape painter who died in 1950 organized the first efforts.

Eight navy combat artists were commissioned in World War II and three more during the Korean war.

Navy Artists

Coale's "North Atlantic Patrol" pictures appeared in Life magazine and later appeared in book form.

Other navy artists whose eye-witness paintings and drawings are included in the Oshkosh show are Albert K. Murray, portrait artist; William F. Draper, some of whose Aleutian and South Pacific scenes were used by National Geographic magazine; Mitchell Jamieson, one of the country's foremost young watercolor artists; and Standish Backus, Jr., who chose the Antarctic "Operation Deep Freeze" as his subject.

No restriction of technique or subject matter was placed on the artists, who have been able to capture the fierceness of battle, the destructiveness of war, the problems of supply and maintenance, and human nature in a variety of media.

The Young Bride Never seems to have enough bed linen, although it is a No. 1 gift at showers. A little color adds a lot of variety to the linen closet. These white sheets and pillow cases are sprinkled with a floral design which may be picked up in the blanket color.

Autumn Brides Like Pretty, Useful Appropriate Wedding Presents

BY KATHLEEN REARDON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fashions in wedding presents may change, but the custom of giving them is as old as history, and the problem of wondering what to buy the new couple is just as old.

One thing to remember, however, is that the new bride does not want things picked out in haste cluttering her house. Rather, she'd prefer to have gifts that are useful, and practical as well as pretty. Most women today register at their local department stores and jewelry stores as they already have their silver, china and glassware picked out and prefer to have people complete these choices. This insures against duplication and having to exchange things that do not match.

Own Ideas

Today's young couples seem to have their own ideas on what they want in color schemes and patterns.

Gifts do not have to be expensive to be nice, as the bride will treasure the smallest knickknack carefully picked out as she does the most expensive gift on the list.

Some ideas and suggestions in the moderate price range include table and bed linen, place mats, small crystal pieces, candy dishes, vases, towels, trays, bread boards and many kitchen appliances. The new patterned sheets and towels are popular in new households. So is the monogrammed linen. The only problem with patterns is that they sometimes conflict with the overall color harmony.

Small electrical appliances make ideal gifts and every couple appreciates these. Hand mixers and electric skillets go along with the standard toaster and iron. Other ideas are automatic coffee makers, electric can openers and knife sharpeners. Clocks are useful and practical. Ornamental gifts are a bit risky because they may not be the type that look right, whereas the basic ones fit into almost any type of home.

Glass Trousseau
Glassware is another good gift item. Why not start a glass trousseau for the bride by giving her one of the new glass and brass entertaining sets? Although they have a luxury look they are inexpensive and will last forever. Every young couple needs glass pieces for eating, drinking, entertaining and serving. Most young couples like to entertain but they are short on storage space and don't want to spend hours on housekeeping. They also want to keep it casual. Double duty presents that can go from the oven to the table, such as casseroles with attractive stands, are appreciated. Mugs, dip sets and brightly decorated tumblers are a feature for informal entertaining.

Other useful gifts are wooden salad bowl sets, steak knives, cutlery sets, carafes, tea pots, ironing boards, popcorn poppers, electric bean pots, blankets and getting to a really practical gift, a wall-type can opener. It's surprising how many young brides request these essential items.

Kitchen Ware

Kitchen utensils are always nice to receive. However, if the bride has had many showers, it's certain that she has her share of cookie jars, canister sets, cookie sheets and mixing bowls. Kitchen tools and stainless flatware are good items.

Matching waste baskets and tissue holders are a complement to a bedroom or bathroom. The mirrored sets are especially attractive.

Glassware Always Makes a practical and proper gift. The carafe and casserole in the background have brass legs and warmers and are attractive items to leave on display. The drinking glasses in a brass holder are ideal for the socially-minded young couple. All items shown are in the moderate price bracket.

At Home in Any Type of room—early American, traditional or modern, these handmade milk glass accessories are hand pressed and make ideal wedding gifts. These reproductions cover a wide price range and may be given as a token or a treasured item.

With the great exodus to outdoor living, outdoor grills and barbecue equipment furnish another outlet in gift giving. A good way to choose a gift

Proper for Guest to be Served First

BY EMILY POST

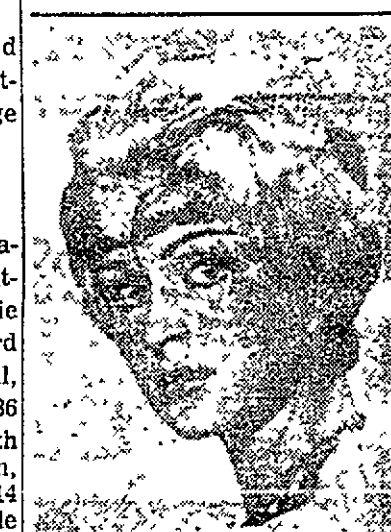

Dear Mrs. Post: Last evening my husband and I were invited to dinner at the house of his employer. I was seated on the host's right and when the waitress came around with the serving dishes, I was served first instead of the hostess. I was never so embarrassed in all my life as I had no idea how to attack the beautifully arranged but complicated dish that was presented to me. I was almost tempted to refuse it but took a deep breath and broke into it, making a mess of it. I ask you, Mrs. Post, what does one do when one is served a complicated dish first? Wouldn't it have been more thoughtful of her guest, for the hostess to have herself served first?

Answer: Your hostess was right in having you served first and you should not have been embarrassed. With the serving spoon you cut out as large a portion as you wish and then lift it out with the fork in the left hand, balancing the food on the spoon to be sure none falls off. You take your portion from that part of the dish nearest you or you may touch the part you think you should take lightly with the spoon and ask the waitress, "Do I start here?"

Reception Card

Dear Mrs. Post: We are in the midst of addressing wedding invitations and a question has arisen as to where the reception card should be placed. The invitation fits into the envelope without folding. Should the reception card be placed on the face of the invitation, or should it be put inside?

Answer: The reception card is placed on the face of an invitation that is not folded.

Prepare Soil For Flowers

Champaign, Ill. — University of Illinois floriculture specialists say prepare the soil for flower planting at least one foot deep. Soil for perennials should be tilled at least two feet deep.

They say the deeper the soil is prepared, the greater the roots can penetrate. The deeper the penetration, the greater the soil volume from which the plant can draw water and nutrients.

Shallow preparation forces the roots to develop in the surface regions of the soil, where they are more subject to adverse summer weather and to gardener neglect.

Frequently people attribute it to the lack of a green thumb when plants become diseased and die when actually the root development was shallow and injury was caused by the drying of the soil around the roots.

The gardener pays for shallow cultivation not only during hot periods of the summer, but also during rainy periods in the late spring.

In wet periods, the water accumulates in the cultivated zone and does not seep through the uncultivated zone. This condition is called waterlogging, and many plants die in waterlogged soil.

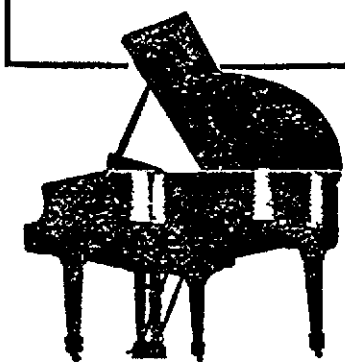

Another point the floriculturists make is that it isn't enough to merely dig up the soil when you prepare it for planting. You must also incorporate some organic matter. Peat moss is one of the best

College President Dedicates Life To Korean Students

BY K. C. HWANG

Seoul, Korea — A seven-foot bronze statue of a gracious lady serenely surveys the tree-shaded campus of Ewha University, as if gazing back across a half century of trial.

The statue is of Dr. Helen Kim, who in 1905 as a little pigtailed girl watched tearfully as Japan's imperial armies marched into Korea.

Out of that day a resolve was born in Helen Kim's heart: Her country must be come strong and free. She swore before God she would dedicate herself to bettering the life of her countrymen.

The 54 years have been eventful for her, crammed with love, tragedy and humor. Korea is divided, but South Korea at least is independent. And Dr. Kim, now 60, is one of its most illustrious citizens.

Emancipation Symbol

She has become a towering symbol of the emancipation of Korean womanhood from near feudal conditions to a position of equality under law.

She is president of Ewha, one of the largest women's universities in the world, vice president of the Korean Red Cross, has served as her government's information director, pleaded its cause at Geneva against repatriation of Koreans from Japan to North Korea, three times has been a member of South Korea's delegation seeking admission to the United Nations, is the first Korean woman to earn a doctor's degree and once published the English-language Korea Times.

Dr. Kim's climb to such pinnacles of feminine achievement in the Orient has been smoothed by a deep faith in the human spirit and Christianity.

Carried Only a Bible

In June, 1950, when North Korea's invading tanks were pounding at the crumbling defenses of Seoul, Dr. Kim picked up her Bible and trudged south. It was all she took, and perhaps all she needed.

Years later she acknowledged:

"There are many good religions in the Orient, Buddhism, Confucianism and Taoism. But they all lack the Christian spirit—an expression of the desire to realize in this world part of the ideals of heaven. It is not a passive good that just tries to avoid evil, but a spirit that actively tries to fight and overcome evil to realize good."

Dr. Kim, her dark hair still untouched by grey, has evolved from this deep-seated faith in the individual.

She has counseled her students from Socrates, "Know thyself." She has told them repeatedly, "Don't be a machine. Be a human being that masters it."

Started Contemporaries

She startled her contemporaries in 1935 by instituting the first sex education course in the Far East. She was equally daring a few years ago when she invited graduating students to bring their boy friends to a dance party, despite a national ban on dancing.

American GIs and foreign visitors know her as the smiling, round-faced hostess who loves to entertain and talk of her nation's aspirations.

Diplomats know her from Geneva and the United Nations. Missionaries recognize her as the founder of Korea's first YWCA. And educators view her as practically a Korean Horace Mann.

"She is the only leader we have in the field of women's education," President Syngman Rhee told the throngs that gathered at Ewha May 9, 1958, to mark her 40th year with the school.

That day the bronze statue was unveiled and a school library was dedicated in her name.

Educated in U.S.

She attended America's Ohio Wesleyan university from 1922 to 1924, obtained a masters degree in education at Boston University in 1925 and a Ph.D. in education from Columbia in 1931.

After returning to Korea she became Ewha's first Korean dean.

Dr. Kim squared off in silent resistance to Korea's Japanese masters, successfully thwarting every attempt to substitute Shintoism for Ewha's Christian faith.

Then in quick, tragic succession came the heady days of liberation as World War II ended, deep disillusionment as communism divided her na-

Council of Churches Gives Strong Backing To Birth Control

Geneva.—A Planned parenthood got a boost Tuesday as a committee of the World Council of Churches strongly endorsed all methods of birth control to stem the worldwide population explosion.

The recommendation by the 22-member committee of churchmen, doctors and sociologists was in direct contradiction to the teaching of the Roman Catholic church, which holds all mechanical and chemical methods of birth control to be sinful.

The World Council is made up of 172 Protestant and Orthodox churches in more than 50 countries. An Orthodox member of the committee dissented from the report.

"The Christian conscience cannot approve of abortion," the group said, drawing a sharp line between this and contraception.

The world's population is increasing by 50 million persons annually, the report said, and family planning coupled with vigorous economic and social development is necessary to solve the problem.

Bath Invites Artistry At Low Cost

There's no room like a bathroom when it comes to providing a setting for clever decorating tricks. Besides, experimenting with color in the bath can be done simply and inexpensively.

Most baths are an excellent background for exciting touches of color and interesting accessories. If you have some of the new styles of ceramic tile, chances are that the color is already there—tile comes in such a wide variety of shades and combinations these days. If that's the case, little needs to be added, but there are still many things you can do for variety.

On the other hand, if your ceramic tile is older, or chosen from a fairly neutral selection of shades, these tuns are meant for you:

1. Study your bath and decide which color you wish to highlight.
2. Choose a patterned towel or curtain as your decorating motif. You'll find there's a great deal to choose from.
3. The motif you select will influence the accessories you choose. A floral theme would suggest a low wicker or white wrought iron bench in the room, maybe with an apothecary jar filled with dried flowers. Another idea would be real butterflies fastened to the wall. Fresh leaves or plants add a genuine garden-in-the-winter touch.
4. Retain one basic color, but experiment with others. You can employ towels, mats, rugs, shower and window curtains.
5. Accessories to consider are scones, jars and bottles, flowers, mirrors, little tables, stools, etc.
6. You can change the shape

of your window or simulate one, where there isn't any, by the use of curtains.

7. Shelves are another easy item to add. They can be used to store numerous bathroom items, which you want to keep handy.

8. Another trick is to vary your lighting. Interesting lamps can be used in any number of ways to change or vary the entire feeling of the room.

Non-Fat Frying

One of the desperate private ways has had to do, if she wanted to lose weight via a healthful balance of foods. In other words — sanely! The reason for eliminating fried dishes from reducing menus, and many reducers do not fully understand it, can be shown by one example: An average-sized boiled potato counts a low 100 calories; fried in shortening, the count jumps 50 per cent. No dieter can afford the increased calorie cost for the same amount of food.

Happily, there is now a way out. A new non-fat cooking aid, sprayed onto pans, allows you to fry potatoes, eggs, meats and fish — without the addition of a single calorie.

Like sugarless sweets, this aid can provide a significant shortcut for all reducers. But for those who crave fried foods, non-fat frying is like having your cake and eating it, too.

Calorie Counter

Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our new booklet, "Pocket Calorie Counter," tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan — a way to eat and slim. For your

Floats, Decorations, Parade to Highlight Homecoming Dates

Floats, house decorations, "Beat Beloit" signs, and a brand new building, the Music-Drama center, will greet alumni returning to Lawrence college for the annual homecoming celebration Friday and Saturday. A full schedule of activities, including all the college traditions, has been planned, according to Jane Rossiter, Minneapolis, and Arthur Ullian, Newton Centre, Mass., co-chairmen of the weekend.

Beginning with "Blue and White Day" on Friday, and climaxed by a dance Saturday evening, all the traditions will be included. Election of a queen will take place at the 11 a.m. convocation Friday in Memorial chapel, where a skit written and produced by the students, under direction of Ullian, will be featured. At 4 p.m. on the same day, judges will view the house and downtown store window decorations. Picking the winners this year will be Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell; Gus A. Zuehlke, president of the chamber of commerce; and Paul Neumann, Appleton fire chief. The trio also will award prizes for the floats in Saturday's parade.

The traditional program by pajama-clad freshman girls will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial chapel. After the crowning of the queen, students will hold a pep rally and send a burning raft down the Fox river. The evening will end with an informal dance with entertainment, titled "The Mess." Gail Glienke, Riverside, Ill., and Robert Anderson, Evanston, Ill., are in charge of these events.

Morning Parade
Activities on Saturday begin with a parade on College avenue at 10:30 a.m., supervised by Marilyn Mollenhauer, Milwaukee; and Alan Bond, Crystal Lake, Ill., who are also directing the program between halves of the football game. A cross-country meet will be run at 11 a.m. between Lawrence and Beloit.

An innovation in the day's activities is a picnic luncheon for alumni, students, and guests to be held in the Alexander gymnasium. Entertainment prior to game time is also on the agenda, according to chairmen Phyllis Spinner, Chicago, and Dennis O'Flying, Carlsbad, N. M. The Lawrence Vikings will meet Beloit at 2 p.m. at Whitening field. Afterward there will be a reception in the Memorial union and open houses at the fraternities for alumni, students, and guests. Beverly Baldwin, Tomah, heads the committee for these arrangements.

Final homecoming event is the dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Alexander gymnasium. Chairmen for the evening are Ann Marcus, Glencoe, Ill.; and Edgar Larsen, Flossmoor, Ill.

Other committee heads for the weekend are Bonnie Glidden, Iron Mountain, Mich., and Martin Green, Barrington, Ill., awards; Joann Nelson, Stambaugh, Mich., baby

A 1-Day Session on Cost accounting was held by Wisconsin YMCA secretaries at the Appleton YMCA Wednesday. Left to right are John C. ## Young-Hobby Club

Autumn Fine Time to Start Interesting Nature Hobby

BY CAPPY DICK

Nut collecting makes a good hobby at this time of year. Specimens can be obtained by hunting for them in the woods, by trading with other young collectors, by persuading friends who go traveling to send back nuts from the places they visit, and, of course, by buying nuts in a store.

Hang the collection on a string in your room as the boy sitters; Sue Daniels, Maywood, Ill., and William Colby, Minneapolis, Minn., publicity; and Virginia Netz, Wauwatosa, and Gordon Becker, La Grange, Ill., store window decorations.

Collection is hung on strings for room decoration.

and girl in the picture are doing. Whenever you find a new kind of nut not already in your collection, glue a small black thread to it. Make a loop of the thread and slip the loop over a heavy black string on which the collection is displayed. Use model airplane glue in attaching the thread to the nut because it holds very firmly.

If possible, obtain two samples of each kind of nut, one with the husk on it and the other with the husk off.

Boys and girls who have brothers or friends stationed overseas in the armed forces will want to write and ask them to send nuts from there. A persistent collector can finally have a display that includes not only nuts which grow in the United States, but also almonds that grow in Spain, cashew nuts from India and Brazil, pistachio nuts from the Mediterranean area, pinon nuts from Mexico and lechi nuts from the Orient.

Merchants who sell nuts are usually pleased to tell you where the various kinds come from. A dictionary will also help you learn about the nuts you gather.

Rhodes Unlike Most Benefactors

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN

The people who start scholarship funds at colleges are generally peaceable folk who use their library cards a lot, go to all the concerts and plays in their town, sit on boards of control for worthy causes and generally line up on the side of truth and virtue.

Cecil Rhodes, founder of the first imaginative international scholarship plan, was not that sort of fellow. He was a cold, imperious man who most frequently attracted the word "arrogant." He was an old Roman emperor born out of his time, with a simple, staggering ambition — to annex and administer the entire habitable world. He was a genius at scraping millions of dollars worth of gold and diamonds from the South African mineral fields, and a tough, effective unarmed treaty maker after native uprisings.

Rhodes wrote wills as children write diaries. He composed six such amazing documents during his lifetime.

This is the first in a series of five articles about the coveted Rhodes Scholarships for study at Oxford university in England, and the men from Lawrence college who have won them.

each one disposing of his vast fortune for the benefit of British imperialism.

Rhodes' dream was blandly specific: "The occupation by British settlers of the entire continent of Africa, the Holy Land, the valley of the Euphrates, the islands of Cyprus and Candia, the whole of South America, the islands of the South Pacific not heretofore possessed by Great Britain, the whole of the Malay Archipelago, the seaboard of China and Japan, the ultimate recovery of the United States as an integral part of the British Empire."

Stars Out of Reach

Nor would he have stopped there, if he could. Once he said to a friend, "These stars mines—the same motor furnished power for both enterprises.

Youthful Success

At 18, he was making $300 a week, at 19 he had his first heart attack, and at 20, when he went back to England, to matriculate at Oxford, he had six partners in an enterprise that eventually became the DeBeers Mining company.

In 1880, after finishing his Oxford education (he was deeply disappointed that he was refused admittance to University college and had to settle for Oriel), Rhodes returned to Africa, was elected to the Cape parliament and set off to make laws in his old undergraduate tweed suit.

From that moment on, his political and financial careers were intertwined. Diamonds and gold mining were servants to his real love—the colonization of the vast spaces of Africa.

Rhodes literally took a country as big as Europe—an area he always referred to as "my north." A part of that north was ultimately named for him—Rhodesia.

Mind Absorbed

Rhodes' great genius lay in his complete absorption in one idea. He was monotonously repetitive in his social conversations as he extolled his dream of imperialism, yet he could stand before a committee of stockholders and deliver a speech of 9,000 words, freighted with precise facts, and never look at a note.

The stories of his arrogance are legion. He despised the natives, and they occupied no place in his dream of world domination by a race of blond men. After Rhodes took Matabeleland from its rightful king, the Old Man took one of the king's sons into his home.

When the boy asked to go north with him, Rhodes replied: "Now, if you come up with me, I must have no nonsense about your being a king."

You will have to help wash the plates and clean my boots. You understand?"

Arrogant in Death

Rhodes genuinely thought of himself as immortal. When asked how long he thought he would be remembered he said calmly, "About 4,000 years." For his tombstone he ordered simply: "Here lie the remains of Cecil John Rhodes." No date of birth, no name of country, no begetter!

Yet, there was a strangely simple side to Rhodes as well. Once, when his name was a household word around the world, he wrote a letter of congratulation to the Prime Minister of Canada. This curiously naive postscript was attached: "You might now know who I am, so I will say that I am Prime Minister of this colony—that is, the Cape Colony."

Not until 10 years before he died, when he was many times a millionaire, did it occur to him that he, too, could own a house. Even when he built a 30-room dwelling, it was furnished in a chaste, white-walled pioneer style. There were no paintings, no piano, no rare editions of books. Rhodes' own bed had an uncomfortable mattress. The master's only jewelry (he who controlled much of the diamond and - gold wealth of the world) consisted of a pair of gold studs. He owned no watch.

Dream for Future

When Cecil Rhodes wrote his sixth and final will (with the literary assistance of Rudyard Kipling). It was his intention that the brainy, manly men whom he would send to Oxford from America and the British Colonies would be the political imperialists of the future, and bring his dream to fruition.

He wrongly designated the numbers of scholars to be elected, for he believed America still was made up of only 13 states.

In 1953, at the centennial of Rhodes' birth and 50 years after the first scholars arrived at Oxford, more than 400 of them gathered in England for a reunion.

When newsmen looked over the adult achievement of Rhodes scholars, they noted that the tight little band of political elite that the Old Man had hoped would run the English speaking world had not materialized. Almost half of the 2,331 chosen from 1903 to 1953 had gone into law or education; 33 had headed colleges or universities; 44 became judges. Few seemed to qualify for the label "English Spies" hung on Rhodes scholars by an Anglophobe Chicago newspaper editor during World War II.

Five Lawrentians

In the half-century that Rhodes scholars have gone off to Oxford, there have been five men from Lawrence college stationed at various junctures.

First was Athol Rollins, '04, a classical scholar who became managing editor of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Then in 1907 came Lawrence's most famous man — Dr. Earnest E. Hooten, often described as "the wit who in his spare time teaches anthropology at Harvard."

Third on the list was Keville Larson, '20, now a New York executive of the Weyerhaeuser Timber company.

Nos. 4 and 5 both came from the brainy class of 1954 at Lawrence, but the awards were won two years apart. First to be chosen was Elmer Pfefferkorn, Jr., of Manitowoc, who took his Oxford B.A. in medicine and now is at Harvard working toward his M.D. His classmate, Michael Hammond of Appleton, was chosen in 1955 after he had been in India on a Rotary scholarship.

What's new with C H E E S E

The shelves of our colorful dessert cupboard are literally overflowing with ideas about cheese and fruit, the new fashion in desserts.

To add a gourmet touch to meals you're proud you've prepared, try slices of sharp Cheddar with a bright red Jonathan, or crumbly chunks of Blue cheese with sweet pears, or soft dabs of Liederkranz on deep purple grapes. The art is in knowing the best flavor combinations, and the answer is on our shelves and in the chart at the right.

We've shown the best-known partners side-by-side, but the real choice is up to you. Just make sure you offer several varieties of cheese (it's best served at room temperature) and a good selection of fresh fruit. Your family and friends will delight in choosing their own favorite dessert combinations.

	Characteristics	Fruit	New Ideas With Cheese
 Cheddar	White to orange; semi-hard, smooth. Mild or sharp flavor depending on aging.	Best with tart Jonathan apples.	Melt shredded Cheddar cheese in your favorite fish chowder. Clam, lobster, shrimp or crabmeat.
 Swiss	Light yellow; semi-hard with round holes or eyes. Delicate, nut-sweet flavor.	Best with tangy Greening apples and slender green Finger grapes.	Try Swiss cheese white sauce, subtly seasoned with nutmeg, served on broccoli or asparagus spears.
 Blue	Blue-veined; semi-hard and crumbly. Sharp, salty, piquant flavor.	Best with sweet, juicy Anjou pears or spicy, cinnamon colored Bosc pears.	Stuff veal birds, flank steak rolls or pork chops with Blue cheese-mushroom filling. Simmer in broth, allowing cheese flavor to cook into the meat.
 Brick	Creamy-yellow; semi-soft slicing cheese, full of tiny round holes. Pungent, rather sweet flavor.	Best with sweet-sour Tokay grapes.	Try a slice of Brick on warm mincemeat pie, or teamed with corned beef and mustard on dark rye.
 Gouda	Creamy, semi-soft yellow cheese covered with red wax. Sweet, mildly nutty flavor with a slight tang.	Best with Golden Delicious apples.	For a new brunch idea, serve wedges of Gouda on buttered dark, wheat bread with plum preserves.
 Liederkranz	Creamy-white; soft with edible white crust. Full, delicately piquant flavor; aromatic.	Best with deep purple Ribier grapes.	Make tasty cheese balls by blending softened Liederkranz with cream. Shape mixture into small balls and roll in finely chopped watercress and pecans. Serve with a pear salad or with toasted buttered crackers.
 Provola	Light yellow; semi-hard, smooth and slightly pliable. Smoky, mellow flavor with tones of saltiness.	Best with sweet Bartlett pears.	Add a smoky twist to a sharp green salad of endive, watercress, escarole and other crisp kinds of lettuce with julienne strips of Provola. Toss with a French dressing.

Cheese Month Noted By Fox Cities Stores

Fox Cities food stores are going along with the times this week end, featuring cheese as part of national cheese month. Prices are a few pennies a pound less on many cheeses this week.

Some popular cheese prices include cheddar, 49 cents a pound; domestic Swiss, 55 cents; brick, 56 to 69 cents; blue cheese, 59 cents; longhorn, 53 cents, and mozzarella, 69 cents.

Standard Bargains

The savings are not enormous, but the idea is to encourage buying cheese, some of which is good in almost every diet.

One Catch to Being Bachelor, It's a Nutritional Hazard

Not every bachelor can enjoy being foot loose and fancy free. There's at least one catch to it, especially if one lives alone: The possibility of being caught up short at the breakfast bar, the lunch counter, the dinner table.

Meals of those who live alone are apt to be deficient in essential vitamins, minerals, and proteins. This word of caution comes to us from one who should know, a noted bachelor nutritionist.

With no one to take care of—or to take care of him—the bachelor or anyone who lives alone is likely to forget to take care of himself. Shopping and cooking for one is more difficult than for a family, and it costs more per head. His time schedule for meals may be so flexible that it disappears. Result, no meal at all.

Essential Foods

Only those who take advantage of our adequate food supply to eat a variety of essential foods can hope for the health to live life to the hilt. These foods—meat or an alternate, milk or cheese, enriched or whole grain bread and cereal, fruits and vegetables—are calorie carriers all, as they are made up of proteins, fats, and carbohydrates.

With these and the other nutrients calorie carriers offer—minerals and vitamins—bachelors have the wherewithal to indulge their fancy.

Following this easy plan of choosing meals from essential foods, it is possible to sidestep the nutritional hazard of bachelorhood—illness caused by a deficiency of nutrients—and still remain foot loose and free for fancy.

Tray Service Allows For TV at Dinner

In former years, the task of setting the table was considered the "privilege" assigned to the children. This is still not completely out of date, but it is sometimes superseded by the arrangement of trays for each member of the family.

Children highly approve of this service, as it often means they are able to look at their favorite television programs while eating supper. Father and Mother may enjoy the tray custom also if they prefer a slightly later hour for the usual meal, and this may coincide with the news.

While conservatives may have a few criticisms of this supper plan, which they insist prevents family discussions, it looks as if TV and radio are here to stay. In any case, there is no reason why families should be less well fed than they were when they all sat around the dining table.

Delicious Pop Corn

Give added flavor to candied pop corn by adding one teaspoon vanilla extract to the syrup before pouring it over the corn.

Question of Stock Payments for Firm Ends in Buyer's Favor

Madison — The state supreme court has upheld Circuit Judge E. M. Duquaine's ruling on a complicated case involving stock in what is now the Menominee Sugar company, Green Bay.

The court confirmed payment by Albert Flegenheimer to pay the remaining $2 la-of $35,374 plus interest to former stock owners of the Superior Sugar Refining company. Refining plants in Ashwaubenon and Menominee, Mich., had been under related ownership, although the Michigan plant has been closed.

The action was brought by William H. Caley, Menominee, and for other former stock owners.

Caley contended that Flegenheimer in 1954 had received options to buy 18,504 shares of stock at $6 a share. It was alleged that Flegenheimer bought 17,950 shares for $4 a share with the pledge to pay the remaining $2 la-er. The remaining stock payments were at issue.

Flegenheimer maintained that the options did not require the further payment. He also contended that the company's equipment and facilities were misrepresented to him.

Meat Institute Promotes Better Labeling of Hams

To cook or not to cook smoked ham is a question that has puzzled many a housewife.

A move to provide a quick and ready answer to this problem was launched by the American Meat Institute at its 54th annual meeting in Chicago.

Meat packers throughout the nation will be urged in the future to label their cured and smoked hams in one of two ways — either as "fully cooked" or as "cook-before-eating".

Confusion Results

All hams fall within one or the other of these categories, but the housewife has been confused because of the widespread use over the past several years of such terms as "ready-to-eat", "ready-to-serve" and similar phrases to describe both kinds of hams.

The situation has been compounded by the fact that the original wrappers in which hams are sold by the packer or generally became separated from the ham in the retail store. This is because most hams are sold in the form of center slices or shank and butt ends.

Many housewives have experienced disappointment when they overcooked "fully-cooked" hams or undercooked or served the so-called "ready-to-eat" ham which requires further cooking to suit most tastes.

To remedy this situation, the institute's provisions (pork) committee is recommending that all hams be labelled by strip branding which will show on all cuts, including center slices. This cooking information will designate the product either as "fully-cooked" or "cook-before-eating". (All canned hams are fully-cooked.)

Thus, the housewife can tell at a glance whether the ham she is preparing for her family table should be thoroughly cooked before serving or should be merely heated through or served cold.

Youths Get 6-Year Sentences for Theft

Mobile, Ala. (AP) — Two youths who admitted stealing 80 pennies and three packs of cigarettes were sentenced to six years in prison.

The terms were imposed on Robert Monroe Carter, 18, and Jack C. Jordan, 17, on their guilty pleas to second-degree burglary of a service station early this year. Police caught them minutes after the break-in.

Carter and Jordan, who were sentenced yesterday, already were under 15-month sentence from Baldwin county in a separate burglary case.

Tasty but Inexpensive is this exotic Chicken Curry. Made with a thrifty stewing chicken and served with a flavorful curry, this dish becomes a welcome party dish.

Chicken Curry
Stewing Hen Used for Glamorous Party Dish

Who is a party-giver's best friend? Chicken, of course. Not just any chicken, mind you, but that most nutritious and versatile of birds, the "bro-hen," otherwise known as a specially bred stewing chicken.

The National Broiler council advises that, due to industry conditions this fall, there is a plentiful supply of bro-hens available at reasonable prices. So what better time than now for a gala supper party featuring an appetizing, and economical, Chicken Curry with all its glamorous accompaniments such as raisins, nuts, hard cooked eggs, coconut.

When you choose a bro-hen as your chicken, it will provide enough tender, flavorful meat to feed six to eight people—and because bro-hens are specially bred to produce the famous broiler-fryers, you not only get high meat yield, but a food with all-round championship qualities.

Low in calories but exceptionally high in protein, the bro-hens' short-fibered, fast-cooking meat is ideally suited to company cookery. Tell your retailer you want a heavy stewing hen weighing four and one-half to six pounds.

Super Chicken Curry
1 1/2 to 6-pound stewing hen whole or cut in pieces
3 cups water
1 medium onion, sliced
2 celery tops
2 bay leaves
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
10 peppercorns

Place chicken in kettle with tight-fitting lid. Add water, onion, celery, bay leaves, MSG, salt and peppercorns; cover. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer two hours, or until tender. Remove from heat; remove chicken, pour broth through strainer; chill. Remove meat from bones; leave in large pieces. If desired, skin may be removed.

Curry
1/2 cup chicken fat
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 apple, peeled and finely chopped
1 cup flour
3 cups chicken stock
1 cup evaporated milk or light cream
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon curry powder
1/2 teaspoon ginger

Put chicken fat in saucepan. Add onion and apple; cook slowly until onion and apple are tender. Blend in flour. Combine stock and evaporated milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in salt, curry powder and ginger. Add chicken. Cook over boiling water or very low heat for 15 minutes. Serve with rice and any of the following accompaniments: chutney, raisins, salted almonds, salted peanuts, crumbled cooked bacon, chopped, hard-cooked eggs, shredded coconut, sliced avocado or grated orange rind.

Cereals Oldest Of Convenience Breakfast Foods

With all the recent emphasis on today's "new" convenience foods, we may overlook the fact that ready-to-eat cereals have been lending their convenience to breakfast for well over 50 years.

Not only cereals, but a wealth of other quick-to-make ready foods as well, enable families to have a nourishing, varied breakfast every day of the week. A look at the basic breakfast pattern shows you how.

Fruits, fresh, canned or frozen, are ready in a jiffy; canned juices are speedily available as is or reconstituted. A variety of ready-to-eat corn, wheat, rice and oat cereals can be served with milk in no time. The choice of breakfast breads, commercially baked, frozen or in mix form, is just about endless.

By combining ready-to-eat cereals with mixes the home-maker can create tempting quick breads to add interest to the morning meal.

Cheese Tidbits

For a unique and delicious light dessert, serve chilled pineapple cubes or spiced peaches and curried Gouda cheese wedges. Cut baby Gouda cheese into wedges and remove bright red coating. Roll outside edges of wedges in curry powder. Serve curried wedges often as a dessert or salad accompaniment or as an appetizer.

Increased Production

The rate of applying metal closures to jars has increased tremendously from 25 a minute in 1908. Today machines can handle more than a thousand baby food jars a minute.

Fund Investments Sound, New Idea

BY SYLVIA PORTER

On this day, in October, 1929, there were no giant corporation pension funds in Wall street for income and profit. For, odd as it may seem to the millions who think we've always had pensions to protect us, there were no pension funds as recently as 1929.

Now, though, corporation pension funds alone hold over $9 billion of stocks listed on the New York Stock exchange. In the past decade, pension funds have increased their stock ownership 1,720 per cent.

On this day, 30 years ago, there were no mutual funds in Wall street investing day after day the savings of millions in long lists of stocks for income and profit. The investment company movement had been born, but it was an infant, and it was to be all but destroyed in the stock market collapse of 1929-32.

Huge Growth
Now, mutual funds alone hold $10.6 billion of stocks listed on the big board in New York, 620 per cent more than they owned a decade ago. Other investment companies hold another $4.4 billion.

On this day, in the blackest month of Wall street history, it was the individual who dominated the stock market. Now this is no longer true.

Growing force in the stock market is the institutional investor — the pension fund, the mutual fund, the savings institution, the life insurance company, the personal trust fund, the foundation.

Here is another of the fundamental distinctions between the markets of 1929 and 1959. Although no one yet can grasp the significance of this development, it is of towering importance.

On an average day institutional investors now account for one-quarter of all trading on the New York exchange (against practically zero in 1929). Last year institutional investors bought $3 billion more shares of stock than they sold.

Right now institutional investors hold $45 billion, or 16.3 per cent of the $276 billion of stocks listed on the big board. Pension funds and investment companies own 8.6 per cent.

Dwarfing these types of institutional investors are the commercial banks which in their personal trust accounts hold $31 billion of common stocks.

Long-Term Buyers
These operators are buyers for the long term, choosing stocks they expect will grow in value as the nation grows.

They are typically holders of intermediate, temporary price fluctuations, and are not under pressure to sell in any particular market.

They are typically holders of high-grade securities, representing established corporations which have proved their worth.

They are typically continuous buyers, investing funds as they receive them, and buying securities both on price rises and declines.

Dramatic Differences
Each characteristic emphasizes how dramatically different the institutional investor is from the individual.

It suggests that a new force has entered the stock market since 1929, which should help stabilize prices. During last month's stock market price break, many mutual funds went on a buying spree. It suggests that the indi-

School From Plane

Prichard, Ala. — Play hooky to go fishing is just too tame for the younger generation. Nowadays, it's hop in a plane and bomb the old high school.

The "bombs" were paper bags filled with flour and the two 18-year-old Vigor High school bombardiers said it was all in fun.

But Clarence L. Pierce, who has a private pilot's license, was charged with reckless operation of an aircraft and placed under $500 bond and vidual is being replaced by the institution and this too should be a force for stability since the institutional investor buying for 10 to 20 years presumably will be less volatile than the individual buying for one or two years.

Tomorrow, rhythm of buying.

James L. O'Clair was charged with disorderly conduct and placed under $200 bond.

One flour bomb burst on the roof of the auditorium and others fell in the school yard. No one was hit. Witnesses jotted down the plane's registration number. Pierce and O'Clair were arrested next day.

What Pets People Take Along to Disneyland

Anaheim, Calif. — Southern Californians are on the go a lot, and the pets they take with them!

Disneyland knows all about the pets. The famed show-place built a pet checking station when it banned dogs inside the park. There are 95 cages built on the rental locker principle. The customer slips a quarter into a slot, which opens the cage. He places the pet in the locker, slams the door and takes the key. The cages accommodate dogs from the size of Newfoundland to Chihuahuas.

So what else have people brought? Cats, even ocelots, bobcats, skunks, parakeets, parrots, white mice, hamsters, snakes (including rattlers), spiders, monkeys, goats and pigs.

Two Aldermen Lose Attempt to Stall Naming College Avenue Span

Two aldermen Wednesday lost an attempt to stall naming the new high level bridge "College Avenue Bridge." Aldermen Austin N. Tucker and Ald. H. Stoegebauer forced a roll call vote on Tucker's motion to refer the street committee recommendation.

Tucker Stoegebauer

back for more study, but found they were alone.

Ald. Ervin J. Bogan asked Tucker why he wanted more study.

Tucker said he is not satisfied with the name.

Tucker's request for referral was opposed by Ald. Kenneth Priebe, forcing a formal motion.

Port Authority

The council approved receiving and filing resolutions on establishing a port and harbor authority.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings had demanded the board of public works, of which Mayor Mitchell is chairman, produce a plan implementing for an authority last spring.

Ald. Bogan said the mayor still is gathering information and is not ready now to present his ideas.

Stop Sign Denied

Ald. John Schumacher said he hopes no tragedy results from the council failure to endorse his suggestion for stop signs on Glendale avenue at Owaisa street.

Cars travel fast on Glendale avenue at that corner, Ald. Thomas K. Schneider, safety committee chairman, admitted. The police department will increase efforts in arresting the speeders, he said.

Golf Course Fence

Ald. Kenneth Priebe told the council he has contacted all but a few residents of streets along the west boundary of Reid Municipal Golf course and they are almost solidly opposed to the proposed 6-foot high cyclone fence.

Driveways Approved

Councilmen approved removal of two parking stalls on the west side of State street, just north of College avenue, to make way for a driveway to a private off-street parking lot of about six stalls.

River Sewer

Falcon Marine company, Evanston, Ill., low bidder, was given a contract to install a sewer interceptor under the Fox river between the sewage treatment plant and the north bank. Work will cost about $41,579.

Bridge Carriers

bridge was approved without debate.

The carriers are County Trunk Z, College avenue itself (formerly Candee street) and a John street-Calumet street combination.

The official map of streets in and out of the city will have to be amended to forbid construction on the desired 80-foot right-of-ways.

could be transferred from the contingent fund.

The council also approved a change in the agreement between the city and the commission to permit appointment of a vice chairman of the regional commission.

Plats

The five tentative or final plats recommended for approval by the planning commission were approved.

They include the final Sunny Acres, final Myrel Olson, tentative George Paltzer, tentative Eldon A. Schultz and tentative First Addition to Heilmann plats.

Sunny Acres includes provisions for multiple family lots and an eventual 80-foot right-of-way for Calumet street. Myrel Olson provides for an 80-foot right-of-way for eventual extension south of County Trunk A.

Rezoning

Rezoning of the southwest corner of Highway 41 and Ullman street and the northeast corner of Charlotte street and Randall avenue was approved.

Wisconsin Michigan Power company wants to build a neighborhood sub-station at 41 and Ullman. Mrs. Louis Reetz seeks the Charlotte street rezoning to multiple family district.

Public hearings will be called.

Swim Pool Tests

Wisconsin Testing Laboratories, Inc., Milwaukee, was awarded the contract for test borings of the proposed south side swimming pool site in Interlake park. Tests were sought by Ralph H. Burke, Inc., Chicago, consultant for the pool project.

Street Vacated

Hanson court from Harding drive north 134.12 feet was vacated when no one appeared at the public hearing to protest.

Ald. Kenneth E. Priebe sought the vacating because the street will never be opened. Its path is interrupted by Madison Junior High school.

Pool Repair

Aug. 20 and Sept. 30 was ordered paid.

The board of public works was told Tuesday it may be necessary to tear up the deepest level of the pool to find a leak.

Marsh hay to protect the pool from the elements will not have to be purchased this year. Bids to be received shortly probably will be rejected.

Street Work

Owaisa street, Wisconsin avenue to Pacific street, a primary street, was ordered scheduled for concrete pavement next year. The street has 50 feet of right-of-way. No width for the new surface has been set.

Sewer, water, grading and graveling were ordered scheduled on Westwood court and Willow court next year.

Gas Main

Wisconsin Michigan Power company was given permission to install 225 feet of 8-inch gas main on the east side of Appleton street from College avenue north to serve the new H. C. Prange company store. Public safety committeemen will confer with the power company.

2 Men Die as Oil Well Blows Out in Wyoming

Lovell, Wyo. — An oil well in a northwestern Wyoming field "blew out" late Tuesday, claiming the lives of two men and injuring two others.

A Mobil Producing company spokesman said the well was being "reworked" and pump rods being pulled from the well casing when it blew, filling the immediate area with oil and poisonous hydrogen-sulfide gas.

Herb Pittman, 39, and Ken Pomeroy, about 30, both of Powell, went into a pit below the pumphouse floor to shut a valve and close in the well.

They were overcome by the fumes and fell face first into a pool of oil. The company spokesman said they were probably asphyxiated, but may have drowned in the oil.

Two fellow workmen jumped into the pit in an effort to save Pittman and Pomeroy but were overcome.

Other workmen, taking short turns in the pit, were able to put ropes around the men and drag them out.

Moon War Within Realm of Reality

Los Angeles — A moon war is within the realm of possibility, says an aircraft engineer.

It could be touched off by rivalry between the United States and Russia in establishing nuclear missile bases on the moon, R. L. Johnson told the society of automotive engineers Tuesday.

"But at least," he added, "the nuclear blasts would be on our satellite — not on earth."

Johnson directs missiles and space systems programs at Douglas Aircraft company. Addressing the society's national aeronautic luncheon, he asked—but didn't answer—the question: What would happen after a moon war?

"It would depend," he said, "on who won."

City Did Get Some Land for Its $10,000

discussed details of the map or abstract with Jury, the attorney having worked exclusively with an engineer in Duszynski's office. The engineer was absent from work Tuesday because of a death in the family.

Some River Lots

"What the city purchased," said Jury today, "was all the land in Bellaire park proper which formed the old right-of-way. The railroad held unrestricted title to that land because the park and right-of-way were platted at the same time."

The city also purchased some of the lots along the Fox river where the right-of-way passed within feet of the river bank, but not all of them, Jury said.

The substance of Duszynski's explanation of the map Tuesday was that the city paid the $10,000 and got nothing.

Assumed Mayor Knew

Deeds giving the land to the railroad, he said, contained clauses reverting property back to abutting property owners if the railroad trackage was abandoned. Among the reverting lots, he said, was the site where two boys drank sewer water, one dying, the other becoming ill.

Mayor Mitchell has repeatedly said the city purchased nothing with the $10,000, that the land would have reverted to the city when the track was abandoned, in any event.

Duszynski said he assumed the mayor had talked with Jury about the situation since the mayor asked him to give the explanation.

Offers Her Rebuttal

Doesn't Care Who's Fed Up, She'll Continue, Ald. Mrs. Stillings Says

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings at the expense of justice for the people of Appleton.

Wednesday told fellow councilmen three other aldermen may be fed up with her tactics, but she intends to continue.

"I fully realize," she said, "that it would be pleasanter to continue to speak out against wrong, or abuse of office, or actions that are contrary to common sense."

"I shall continue to speak out for the rights of the people of Appleton."

She assured council men that "I respect your right to attend any meetings you choose, I respect your right to your own opinions and I respect your right to be different from this council, because I believe we are all working for a better Appleton."

Out of Order?

She prefaced these remarks with a contention that under rules for procedure adopted by the council and under Robert's parliamentary rules of order, also adopted by the council, Ald. Kenneth Priebe, Harold Hannemann and Ervin J. Bogan were out of order in their speeches about her at the last council meeting.

They were out of order, she said, because they directed their remarks at her and not the subject for debate, the report of the board of public works. She implied the mayor should have ruled them out of order.

Bogan, when she finished, somewhat heatedly demanded she tell him what he said that was out of order.

League Watches

"It is not the man, but the measure, that is subject of debate," she quoted twice from Robert's rules.

Bogan said:

"What I said was that Ald. Stillings said the capital outlay program's been laying around the board of public works for years and she was a member of the board two years ago and did nothing about it."

Ald. Alvin E. Tews at this point quickly moved to close the debate.

Some 80 members of the League of Women Voters, on hand for observance of "Good Government Day" witnessed the exchange.

Tipsy Youth Has Accident

Car Demolished This Morning; Omro Man Guilty

A Neenah youth, whose car was badly wrecked in a collision early this morning, paid a $100 fine and his driver's license was revoked for one year after he pleaded guilty of drunken driving when arraigned before Winnebago County Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger.

He is Warren H. Skifstad, 18, of 217 Smith street, Neenah. He was arrested at 12:59 a.m. today on County Trunk A, south of Adella beach, when his car struck a station wagon driven by Warren L. Beaster, 32, Oak street, Neenah. Beaster had owned the car exactly one day. He was going north on A, when Skifstad's car rounded a curve and struck his auto.

Skifstad tested .159 on the breathalyzer. A rating of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

William R. Fleck, 41, of 1245 Lincoln avenue, Omro, changed his plea from innocent to guilty and was fined $100. His license also was revoked for one year by Judge Luchsinger.

Fleck was arrested by Winnebago county police on Highway 116 in the town of Omro Sept. 30 when they observed him driving erratically. He pleaded innocent on arraignment Oct. 1.

Malmstrom Chides Aldermen For Setting Poor Example

Aldermen are not providing a good example of conserving tax money, one of them charged Wednesday night.

Ald. Homer Malmstrom told fellow councilmen the transfer of $941 from the contingent fund to the aldermen's travel account Malmstrom represents spending 60 per cent in excess of the originally budgeted $1,500.

With the city having undergone tax rate increases of $4 and $4.50 the last two years and still another rate increase impending, the transfer is questionable, he said.

When four other aldermen,

Captain, Ertl, Groh and Mrs. Stillings joined Malmstrom in opposing the finance committee recommendation, Ald. Harold Hannemann said:

"I was amazed at the 'no' votes. The mall tour was authorized at the last council meeting."

(Hannemann referred to the unlooked for expense of the mall tour being a part of the extra $941 needed. Mall tour expenses probably won't exceed $600 for the four aldermen who attended, most of it in plane fare.)

Man Sent to Prison For Nonsupport

George Webster, 29, Neophi was sentenced to state prison for a 1- to 2-year term after he admitted failing to support his wife and five children, aged 6 years to 6 months.

Webster was charged by his wife, Minnie.

Zoning Change Sought for 33-Acre Industrial Tract

The city council Wednesday was asked to rezone about 33 acres in the northwest corner of Appleton from heavy industrial to single family, 2-family and multiple family district.

Walter Klitzke, 1836 W. Wisconsin avenue, the owner, said he wants 13 of the lots for 2-family dwellings and 10 for multiple-family, the rest for individual homes.

Planning commissioners Monday failed to approve Klitzke's tentative Westwood plat because the lots shown would do away with the industrial zone adjacent to the Soo Line Railroad tracks.

Klitzke had told the commission he wants a change of zone because he cannot compete with the $1,500 an acre price at which the city is offering industrial property for sale.

Planning commissioners have decided to rule on Klitzke's request after a joint meeting with the industrial development committee, Appleton Industrial Development corporation, and the county industrial committee.

18-Year-Old Gets Probation for Stolen Car Ride

Dale Jost, 18, of 1335 Katherine street, was placed on probation for two years for auto theft Wednesday in municipal court.

Jost was sentenced after he was unable to enter the service, an opportunity given him by Judge Oscar J. Schmiede after a pre-sentence investigation.

The youth was charged after he and a 17-year-old boy went for a ride in a stolen car and were taken into custody by Neenah police Sept. 19. The 17-year-old stole the car; Jost admitted riding in it and knowing it was stolen.

The 17-year-old is a native of Skokie, Ill., and was released to join the service.

Paul Schwalbach will benefit from this road by gaining access to possibly four lots to the rear of his building.

U-Shaped Road
The other proposed road will be U-shaped entering south of the rezoned portion and west of County Trunk N. It will run west, swing south, then back out on the county trunk.

The two unusual road routes are necessary to utilize as much of the property for residential building as possible since a deep ravine cuts through the land from north to south, Gosz said.

Benson Returns From European Tour Friday

Much Traveled Man May Come Up With Trade Announcement

Washington — (AP) — Much-traveled Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson files in Friday from his 10,000 mile trade and good will trip to Europe including the Soviet Union.

But whether he comes up with any recommendations for broadening trade with Russia remains to be seen.

Under present regulations, Russia does not have access to America's government-owned farm surpluses. Poland and Yugoslavia are the only countries with Communist governments which can obtain them, while large quantities have been shipped over the years to other countries.

A department official estimated that when Benson

Dr. John C. Bailar, president of the American Chemical society, will speak to the Northeast Wisconsin section of the society at 8:15 p.m. Oct. 14 at the Institute of Paper chemistry. Bailar's subject will be "Polymerization through Coordination." He is head of the division of inorganic chemistry at the University of Illinois.

steps of his plane Friday at National Airport he will have completed 546,939 miles of travel since he became secretary back in 1953. That is equivalent to more than 20 trips around the world. For this year alone, he will have traveled 54,407 miles on his return.

He is probably the most traveled cabinet official with the exception of the late Secretary of State John F. Dulles, who traveled 539,988 miles while in office.

Benson's position prior to his latest trip was that he favored farm trade with Russia whenever it was mutually advantageous. But actual trade in recent years with the Soviet Union has been minor. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his recent tour of this country repeatedly urged a stepped-up trade relationship with his country.

Good Forecast Fell Through In Fox Cities

The weatherman's forecast for better weather fell through. Cold air moved into the plains states Wednesday night and today, bringing rain and snow in some areas from eastern Dakotas.

The sun, however, did manage to squeeze from between the clouds Wednesday afternoon in the Fox Cities. Nature's newly-dressed leaves looked more beautiful for a short time. Then the rains came again and dropped .04 of an inch.

Duck hunters love the weather. Storms and cold are keeping the speedy fliers moving and affording shooters action.

THRIFTY, EASY WAYS TO ENJOY YOUR OWN Cheese Festival

MELT IT...

ENJOY ITS VARIETY...

HOW MANY HAVE YOU TRIED?

The World's Best Cheese comes from the good old U.S.A.!

October is Cheese Festival! It's the month when your grocer sets out all of the wonderful cheeses made in the good old U.S.A. There's hearty cheese for sandwiches. Eatin' cheese for cheese trays and snacks. Cheese in every flavor, shape and color. Look for 'em in the dairy case. And buy several kinds to enjoy.

SLICE IT. For a satisfying sandwich, try one of these great slicing cheeses... mild, nutlike Swiss... aged natural Cheddar... or smoky-tasting Provolone.

MELT IT. Hot cheese makes a hearty meal! To make a broiled cheese and ham sandwich terrific, add man-sized slices of natural Cheddar and broil. * Know the secret of a delicious rarebit? Aged Cheddar to give it that fine tangy flavor. Try one soon. * A delicate fluffy omelet steals the show! Melt grated Cheddar inside. Pour melted Cheddar on top.

ENJOY ITS VARIETY. How long since you've had a cheese tray? Here are slices of mild Swiss and aged Cheddar, tiny wedges of creamy Camembert, nippy Blue, cubes of aged Cheddar and red-coated Gouda. Serve 'em for snacks. Or with beverages.

HOW MANY HAVE YOU TRIED? Here, reading clockwise, you see grated Parmesan for macaroni, salads, soups. Brick, the mild and sweet sandwich cheese. Mozzarella, the famous pizza cheese. Mild Swiss for sandwiches. Cheery Gouda or Edam in the bright red coat for cheese tray or snacks. Delicately flavored Cream Cheese for sandwiches. And in the center, Cheddar (or American). Look for these cheeses in your dairy case.

Terrors to Risk FRVC Lead At Oshkosh Friday Night

NOTES and NOTIONS

Guessing Scoreboard

LAST WEEK	SEASON TOTALS
Hits Misses Pct.	Hits Misses Pct.

With such seemingly even-up wingdings as Packers-49ers, Wisconsin-Purdue, and Clintonville-Neenah ready to throw any predictor for a loss, I'm convinced there must be an easier way than this to do a column. But, let's have a go at it.

Dillon

Wisconsin over Purdue—We have a lot of reservations here, because the Badger mastery began in '45—has just got to end before too long. The loss of QB Ross Fichtner won't help Purdue's chances of avenging its only 1958 defeat. Also, the Boilermakers may have a slight let-down after being keyed high for arch-rival Notre Dame last Saturday.

Indiana over Marquette—The Warriors' schedule is still too demanding for the caliber and depth of material currently available. "Liz" Blackburn's first victory of his second term will have to wait at least another week.

Lawrence over Beloit—So far, the Vikes' revival has coincided with that of the Packers. Buoyed by still-growing confidence and their homecoming support, the Lawrentians will make Beloit's return to Whiting field something less than a pleasure jaunt.

Appleton over Oshkosh—A bulky offensively-minded Indian eleven will give AHS its biggest test of the season. The Terrors will need all of the defensive tenacity and offensive versatility they showed in the first three games to stay unbeaten.

Neenah over Clintonville—One of the prime offerings of the Fox Cities' 1959 prep football season, this battle of unbeaten figures to be as hard-fought as last year's 7-all tie. The Rockets have been exposed to greater pressure against tougher opposition—that's the basis for giving them a slender edge. It could be, though, that the Truckers' horse-power will prove as irrepressible against a strong team as against a mediocre one.

Kaukauna over Shawano—The Ghosts have developed a scoring punch to go along with their tight defense.

Kimberly over New London—Papermaker passing prowess will spread Bulldog defenses too thin.

Two Rivers over Menasha—This could go either way, but the Jays' defense has been slightly easier to solve up to now.

St. Mary over Fond du Lac Springs—The Fondy "11" has improved enough to beat any league rival on a given day. But, the Zephyrs—at their best—have a little too much.

St. John over Pacelli—The Dutchmen will shake off last week's disheartening loss to start a new streak.

Central Wisconsin—Weyauwega over Marion, Wau-paca over Manawa, Bonduel over Wittenberg.

Little Nine—Denmark over Shiocton, Reedsville over Omro, Winneconne over Freedom, Wrightstown over Hortonville.

Happy to be Home, Chisox, Clown in Drill

Smith Says It Was 'Nightmare' Playing in LA

Chicago — Back home in a ball park more suited to their style of play, the Chicago White Sox Wednesday were confident they would square the World Series.

Rapid Workout—The White Sox took a rapid workout in Comiskey park Wednesday but they were still grumbling about the sun and the white-shirted background in the coliseum.

"We were hurt by that park," said Manager Al Lopez, "but we can win the thing here, now."

Lopez said he has been disappointed in his team's play but said much of the trouble was caused by the coliseum. "We can play better than we have, and I think we'll show it in these last two games."

Lopez, almost taking for granted that the Sox would win the sixth game, said:

"We're a defensive team and when we don't play good defensive ball we look bad. We weren't used to that park or that infield grass which slowed up the ball and then it would hop up when it hit the skin part."

If the White Sox should win the sixth game, Lopez said he would pitch Dick Donovan, Billy Pierce or Bob Shaw in the final Friday.

Asked if the Sox would benefit if there were any rain delays, Lopez shrugged and said: "No, I don't think so."

However, a delay would give Early Wynn the benefit of another day's rest.

"I'm not tired," said Wynn. "My elbow feels good."

Despite the wet grounds in Comiskey park where it had rained for two days, the Sox were like lost children who finally had found their way home. They joked and clowned in the field and nobody would have guessed that they trailed the Dodgers in games, 3-2.

Saturday's Games: North at Fond du Lac, West at Central.

On any number of counts Friday night's Appleton High-at-Oshkosh contest shapes up as one of the state's more interesting pairings and one of the games-of-the-year in the Fox River Valley conference. The meeting is a "must" for the speedy, good-sized rivals.

Northwest Area Duck Season Opens Strong

BY JAY REED Post-Crescent Outdoors Editor

Nelson—The 1959 Wisconsin waterfowl season got off of a good start here Wednesday.

Forecasts of snow flurries and high winds for this northwestern area tonight and Friday indicate hunting may be even better for the weekend.

Opening Fair, Says CD

Madison — Hunting success in the 50-day Wisconsin duck hunting season that opened Wednesday was described by the Conservation department as fair to below-average.

Ducks were high in flight and well spread out because of good water conditions, the department said.

Some Jump Gun

Some hunters jumped the noon starting time by about 15 minutes Wednesday making it difficult for those shooters who wanted to abide by the law.

A half hour before shooting time in these Mississippi river swamp lands, big flocks of mallards and widgeons ballooned into the air chased by hunters going to their shooting places. The early blasting put most of the mallards high in the sky by legal shooting time. But stragglers and singles zipped across the marshes at tree top level providing good sporadic firing.

Some hunters, like this writer, turned to jump shooting by mid afternoon. We used our canoe to work the back area of the marshes. We started jump shooting at 3 p.m. with one mallard taken just after shooting opened at noon. In 45 minutes, we had jumped three mallards and dropped one.

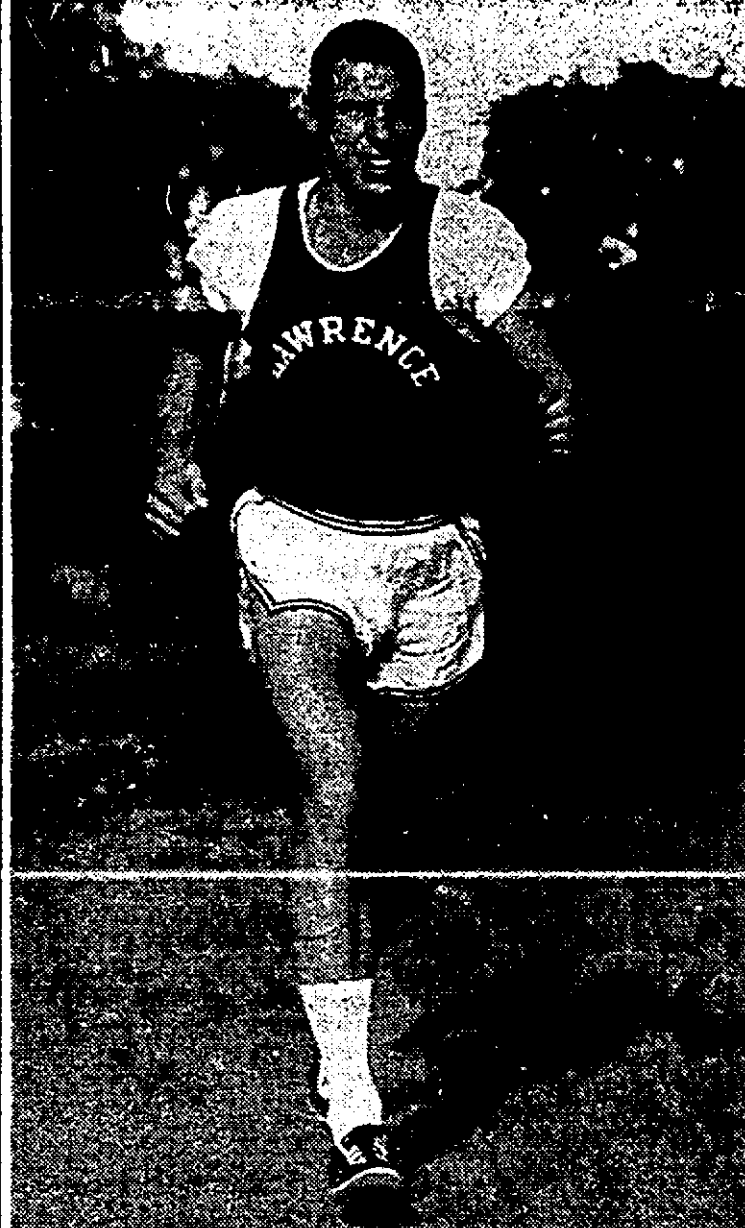

Our other kill was a blue-bill, ordinarily a late-season duck. The presence of this species here now is probably an indication of weather to come.

Minot, N. D., had three inches of snow on the ground today. Temperature was 28 with blowing snow. Friday the northwest part of Wisconsin is to get the tail of the Dakota storm. The weatherman promises rain mixed with snow, cold and blowing.

That for duck hunters, at least, is good news.

Clubs Picked 1-2 In Big Ten Pre-Season Poll

By The Associated Press

Can the nation's seventh-ranked offense overcome the eighth-ranked defense? Will the top pick for Big Ten honors beat the No. 2 choice? Wisconsin and Purdue will supply the answers when they meet Saturday and they may spell out R-O-S-E B-O-W-L.

Wisconsin is picked to win the Big Ten crown and the trip to the Rose bowl. Purdue was picked to be runner-up. Wisconsin's run for the roses could come to a screeching halt with a loss, or it

Northwest Area Duck Season Opens Strong

BY JAY REED Post-Crescent Outdoors Editor

Nelson—The 1959 Wisconsin waterfowl season got off of a good start here Wednesday.

Forecasts of snow flurries and high winds for this northwestern area tonight and Friday indicate hunting may be even better for the weekend.

Opening Fair, Says CD

Madison — Hunting success in the 50-day Wisconsin duck hunting season that opened Wednesday was described by the Conservation department as fair to below-average.

Ducks were high in flight and well spread out because of good water conditions, the department said.

Some Jump Gun

Some hunters jumped the noon starting time by about 15 minutes Wednesday making it difficult for those shooters who wanted to abide by the law.

A half hour before shooting time in these Mississippi river swamp lands, big flocks of mallards and widgeons ballooned into the air chased by hunters going to their shooting places. The early blasting put most of the mallards high in the sky by legal shooting time. But stragglers and singles zipped across the marshes at tree top level providing good sporadic firing.

Some hunters, like this writer, turned to jump shooting by mid afternoon. We used our canoe to work the back area of the marshes. We started jump shooting at 3 p.m. with one mallard taken just after shooting opened at noon. In 45 minutes, we had jumped three mallards and dropped one.

Our other kill was a blue-bill, ordinarily a late-season duck. The presence of this species here now is probably an indication of weather to come.

Light rain fell intermittently Wednesday and continued this morning. Weathermen say it may turn to snow flurries tonight.

Minot, N. D., had three inches of snow on the ground today. Temperature was 28 with blowing snow. Friday the northwest part of Wisconsin is to get the tail of the Dakota storm. The weatherman promises rain mixed with snow, cold and blowing.

That for duck hunters, at least, is good news.

Fullback Suffers Second-Degree Burns on Hand, Foot From Grease

BY ART DALEY Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Suddenly the Packers are in trouble!

The Bays were less than two minutes short of going through two complete games without a complicated injury. Then, in the space of four plays against the Lions here Sunday, Nate Borden and Jim Ringo came up with knee hunts.

Fullback Jim Taylor suffered second degree burns on his foot while trying to get a flaming frying pan of potatoes out Packers' two victories. He was hurt on the last defensive play.

Snider Restored To Dodgers' Starting Lineup

Asks Walt Alston For Chance to Hit Against Wynn

Chicago — Duke Snider, gimpy knee and all, was to be in the Los Angeles lineup today when the Dodgers faced the Chicago White Sox in the sixth game of the World Series.

Snider asked Manager Walter Alston to play.

The Dodger team was flying from Los Angeles to Chicago Tuesday night after the White Sox' dramatic 1-0 victory.

"Skipper," Snider said to Alston, "put me in the lineup Thursday. I want to play against (Early) Wynn (Chicago starting pitcher). I feel in my own heart that I'm going to get a hit that will help us win."

"Good Enough to Play" Alston nodded understandingly.

"How's the knee?" he asked.

"Still not A-1," said Snider, "but good enough to play."

Except for an unsuccessful pinch-hit appearance Tuesday, Snider saw no action at all in the three games at the Los Angeles coliseum. He played in both games in Chicago and got one single in seven official times at bat.

"Skip," Snider said earnestly, "I know (Don) Demeter can do a better job defensively, but I've been in six series and I feel my experience can help in this one. I didn't ask to play back home because I felt I would be a handicap then but the knee feels better now—much better."

That's how Alston came to announce that Snider would play today.

Rules Much Different in 1902

Member of 1st Viking '11' to Beat Beloit Reminisces on Eve of 46th Tilt

A turn of the century Lawrence football player, a member of the first "Methodist" eleven to beat its downstate rival, Beloit, indulged in some pre-homecoming reminiscences this week, as Lawrence prepares to meet the Buccaneers for the 46th time. Lawrence began its series with Beloit in 1899, but the first two contests went to the state-liners.

Robert K. Wolter, Appleton business executive, played all but five minutes at right tackle in four years of varsity football for the "Lawrence University Methodists." Wolter insisted that his endurance was not unusual for those days. Ballplayers were harder then, he said, because they walked more. Also, because the rules of that time prohibited a player returning to the game after being removed, a "fellow had to get knocked out" before the coach would take him out of the game.

Were Different

Many of the other rules of that day were considerably different from the present. There was no passing, and all yardage was gained on line bucks and end runs. To make a first down, a team had to gain only five yards in three downs, but then the field was 110 yards long. A touchdown was worth five points, and a drop - kick through the up-rights, then set right on the goal line, was worth a single point. The games were 70 minutes long, split only into two halves.

Wolter remembered vividly the first victory over Beloit in 1902, his freshman year. "It was perhaps the finest team I played on in my years at Lawrence," he said. The coach was Ed Merrill, a former star at Beloit whose athletic prowess had been compared to that of Jim Thorpe. Merrill knew, of course, the inside dope on Beloit and prepared the Vikes with a defense against specific plays. It worked like a charm and Lawrence won easily, 24-0.

At Palmer House After the game, Merrill, annoyed by the frequent train changes on the trip to Beloit, decided to take the squad to Chicago for a more direct route home. The Methodists ate at the Palmer house that night and ran into another football team, the famous "Point-a-Minute" Michigan squad and their coach, Fielding Yost.

Lawrence played ambitious football schedules in those days. In the 1902 season, they played a 9-game schedule, losing only to Wisconsin. However, Wolter recalled with a twinkle, some of the boys that played for Lawrence did not attend the college at all. Some of the young men from the Neenah-Menasha area enjoyed the game so much that they would play their own expenses just to play. Several of the standouts on the team, Jack Snyder and Cliff Pierce, even played on the Menasha Athletics, a local pro team.

Charlie Sorenson from Neenah, an outstanding center, was the originator of the "roving center," a defensive pull.

Standard Uniforms

The uniforms were fairly standardized by that time, but Wolter recalled that some of the wealthier players would send to Chicago for "mole-skins," a very slippery, expensive kind of uniform. Otherwise, the teams wore jerseys with leather helmets, leather shoulder pads, and wooden thigh guards.

Home games were then played at a field north of the present city park, between North and Pacific streets in Appleton. Canvases was put up, but ingenious youngsters climbed trees to watch from outside the park. In those days there were no stands, and the spectators stood along the sidelines behind a retaining rope. In Wolter's last year the Methodists played at a field south of the present Appleton Wire Works.

Wolter, 5-9 and 188 pounds during his playing days, is today, at 76, only five pounds over his old football weight.

Shaw Feels Most Consistent Club Will Win Title

Philadelphia — Coach "Buck" Shaw of the Philadelphia Eagles says he thinks a team can capture the National Football league's Eastern conference championship "by winning six games."

Speaking at a football writers' luncheon Tuesday, Shaw based his observation on "the pattern set in the first two weeks," in which there were several upsets.

"The team that wins the title in the East or West," Shaw declared, "may not be the best team but rather the most consistent team. It won't be a team that reaches the heights one week and the depths the next."

"I don't know how to control that. I don't think you can control it from a coaching level. You need a psychiatrist."

AP's Liska Picks UW Over Purdue, Indiana to Top MU

BY JERRY LISKA

Chicago — The old Pigskin Professor emerges from a World Series trance to swat the crystal ball around a bit. He's batting .588 which is mighty good in baseball, but mighty discouraging to a football prognosticator. Maybe the fog will lift this week: Wisconsin 18, Purdue 14 — The Bollermakers can't un- rivet that Wisconsin whammy without injured quarterback Ross Fichtner. This one could be for the Big Ten title and a Rose bowl shot.

Iowa 13, Michigan State 7 — The Hawkeyes will be ornery after that setback by Northwestern. The Spartans will be a little chesty after belting Michigan.

Illinois 19, Ohio State 14 — The Illini, as big and tough up front as the Buckeyes, may have another surprise for Ohio State. Quarterback Mel Meyers and halfback Johnny Counts, both sophs, put a real chill on Army last Saturday.

Northwestern 21, Minnesota 12 — Northwestern lost a star quarterback and Minnesota seems to have discovered one last weekend. However, the Wildcats managed to whip Iowa without injured Dick Thornton and should handle Minnesota even with soph Sandy Stephens cutting Gopher capers.

Notre Dame 21, California 7 — The Fighting Irish get a little more running room than they had against Purdue.

Michigan 12, Oregon State 12 — This is a tossup between a couple of have-nots. However, the Wolverines have the home field advantage.

Indiana 20, Marquette 2 — It's beginning to look like another long, long season for the Warriors. The Hoosiers won't be pleasant after that spanking by Minnesota.

MU's Hall Ranks Third In Passing

Stanford's Norman Leads Big Colleges, According to NCAA

Milwaukee — Pete Hall, Marquette quarterback, is third in the nation among the major college forward passers, according to records compiled by the NCAA.

Hall, playing in three football games, has completed 33 of 68 passes thrown for a percentage of .485 and 410 yards. The leader is Dick Norman of Stanford who has 48 completed in 72 attempts for .667 and 576 yards.

The combination of Norman and Chris Burford controls three categories — total offense, passing and pass receivership.

Pervis Atkins of New Mexico State added the scoring lead to his first place in rushing last week.

Last Year's Champ

Norman ran up against last year's total offense champion, Dick Bass of College of the Pacific last Saturday and out-pitched him by 221 yards to 149. The Stanford junior now has a total offense of 594 yards on 82 plays.

Burford has caught 17 passes, three more than Bill Carpenter, Army's lonely end, and Sammy Oates of Hardin-Simmons and is first in yardage gained by passing with 239.

Atkins has 486 yards on 60 carries. His eight touchdowns and one extra point give him 49 points.

Stitch Hands Dupas 13th Career Loss

Louisville, Ky. — Rudell Stitch, Louisville welterweight, scored a decision over No. 3 rated contender Ralph Dupas Wednesday night in a 10-round nationally televised bout.

There were no knockdowns as the 144-pound Stitch, ranked No. 8 by the National Boxing association, took advantage of a longer reach to catch Dupas with sharp head and body blows.

Louisville promoter Bill King has offered welterweight titleholder Don Jordan $75,000 to fight Stitch here.

Former Milwaukee Coach Kahle Dies

Milwaukee — Charles F. Kahle, 76, winner of some 70 championships while coaching at Milwaukee East Division High school, died Wednesday at Grand Marais, Mich., according to word received here. He suffered a heart attack while driving his automobile.

Until his retirement, Kahle coached football, cross country and track at East Division for more than 25 years.

Thompson Sets Four Speed Marks Mickey Has Two Brushes With Death On Salt Flats

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah — America's fastest automobile driver headed for his California home today richer by four international speed records and wiser by at least two brushes with death. Mickey Thompson, 30, of El Monte, Calif., in three days of running on the salt flats of western Utah, smashed four international speed marks that have stood since the late English driver John Cobb, set them in 1939.

Breaks Loose In one of Thompson's record attempts Tuesday, his oxygen mask tube broke loose in the fume-choked cockpit behind the roaring four engines of his racer, Challenger I. Thompson drove the car with an oxygen tube in his mouth in order to prevent being overcome by the fumes. Earlier in the week his car skidded off the course and sustained some dents.

Thompson was deeply discouraged Tuesday night when high winds and rain forced him to cancel an attempt on the world's top automobile speed of 394.2 m.p.h. set here in 1947 by Cobb.

In two earlier runs Tuesday, Thompson set the following international marks which must be confirmed by the International Automobile Federation. For the flying 5-kilometer 351.95 m.p.h., compared to Cobb's 326.7; the flying 5-mile at 342.54 compared to Cobb's 302; the flying 10-kilometer at 325.65 compared to the Englishman's 283.0, and the flying 10-mile at 282.72 compared to the old mark of 270.4.

Marquette Drills on Defense To Stop Indiana Single Wing

Milwaukee — Marquette's football team, beaten in its first three starts this year, takes on a strong Indiana eleven Saturday that will throw something new at the Warriors.

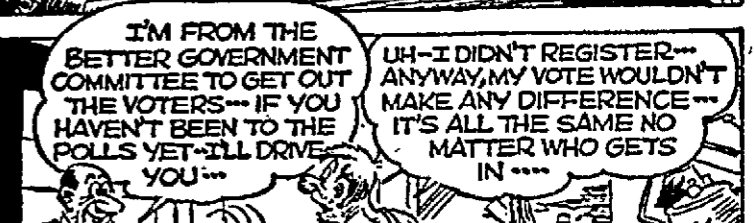

Coach Lisle Blackburn has been giving his squad rugged drills this week, despite rain and inclement weather, on a defense aimed at halting Indiana's single wing offense. The Warriors haven't run up against that kind of an attack this year and Blackburn has had to completely revamp his defense.

Kimberly—Halfback Glenn Harke, former Kimberly High school athlete, is well on his way to another scoring title at Stout institute.

Harke, a speedster, is a junior and has led the Stout scoring in both his freshman and sophomore seasons. In addition to football, Harke is on the varsity basketball and baseball teams. This spring he won the track de-cathalon medal.

After three football games Harke now ranks fifth in the nation in small college rushing statistics.

Glenn has carried 49 times for 291 yards for a 5.9 average. He has scored 38 points to lead the squad. In addition to his ground gaining antics, Harke does all the punting for the team and is one of the leading pass receivers.

Glenn graduated from Kimberly High in 1957. He gained all-conference honors in football and basketball and captained both Papermaker teams in his senior year.

Comiskey Park Gets Deluge of Ticket Calls

Chicago — The Comiskey park switchboard was aglitter all day and Wednesday night with calls from fans for reserved seat tickets to the sixth game of the World Series.

The reply from weary operators was always the same: "Sorry, there are no tickets left."

Some 1,500 bleacher seats at $2 and 4,000 standing room tickets at $4 go on sale this morning.

While the resale of tickets at higher prices is illegal, some ticket brokers reported they had offers of tickets from individuals for $50 and $60 each for poorly located seats, too.

Black Hawks Whip Rangers In Opener

By The Associated Press

The talent-laden Montreal Canadiens swing into the forty-third National Hockey league season tonight as the strong favorites to wrap up their fifth straight championship and Stanley cup.

Boston's Bruins, beaten by Toronto in the first round of the 1958-59 playoffs, furnish the opposition at Montreal.

Canadian Coach Toe Blake calls the Chicago Black Hawks the team he fears most. Last season, the Canadiens eliminated the Hawks in the first round of the Stanley cup competition after a fierce struggle.

The Hawks whipped the New York Rangers, 5-2, in the league opener at Chicago Wednesday night.

With virtually the same crew which surprised last season, the Hawks jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first period and never were headed. Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull each scored a goal and picked up one assist. Al Arbour, Elmer Vasko and Ron Murphy accounted for the other goals.

Bobcats Sign Michigan Tech Star Stenlund

Open Practice Tuesday for Nov. 13 Opener

Green Bay—The Green Bay Bobcats have signed forward Ron Stenlund, 4-year varsity star at Michigan Tech, for the 1959-60 Central Hockey league season.

Stenlund, 24-year-old native of Rouyn, Quebec, was voted Tech's most valuable player in the 1957-58 season when he averaged one point per game in the strong Western College Hockey league.

Scores 4 Goals
As a sophomore in 1956, he helped Tech gain a berth in the NCAA tournament for the first time in the school's history and was a key figure in the Huskies' drive to second place.
En route to the finals, in which the University of Michigan edged Tech, 7-5, Stenlund scored four goals in the Huskies' victory over Boston college, perennial eastern hockey power.

Clark rates Ron, now an engineer for a highway construction equipment company in Appleton, as "a fine defensive forward." The Bobcats open practice next Tuesday.

Player-coach Johnny Mayasich, will conduct daily drills thereafter in preparation for the Bobcats' league opener against the Minneapolis Millers here Friday night, Nov. 13.
Clark expects "about 25 players" to report for the opening drill.
The pre-season drills may be capped by an intra-squad game, Clark said. If scheduled, it will be played Saturday night, Nov. 7.
Mayasich, the Bobcats' leading scorer last season on a points-per-game basis, is pleased over the early starting date, three weeks ahead of a year ago.

St. Joseph '11' Will Meet Holy Cross

The Appleton St. Joseph and Kaukauna Holy Cross grade school football teams will play a Catholic Boys' conference game at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Goodland field.
St. Joseph's season tickets (for football and basketball home games) can be obtained at the gate. Including the Holy Cross contest, there are two more home grid dates.
St. Joseph's record is now 2-1 overall, 1-1 in the league.
Last Friday St. Joseph beat Wilson, 6-0, as Bob Bleier ran 75 yards for the game's only touchdown.

Comiskey Calls Chisox Farm System Among Best in Game

BY JERRY LISKA

Chicago — The Chicago White Sox "forgotten man," Vice President "Chuck" Comiskey, predicted today the Pale Hose will be pennant contenders for five to eight seasons.

"The strongest clubs in baseball — as far as reaching down for minor league talent is concerned — the White Sox and the Milwaukee Braves," said 33-year-old Chuck, last of his clan in baseball.

No Guarantee
Front office-wise, there was not much to guarantee a Sox pennant this season. The campaign began in the wake of a bitter legal hassle between Chuck and his sister, Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, and the eventual purchase by Veck of Dorothy's 54 per cent holdings.

Chuck and Veck have operated amicably, on the surface, although at best this may be just as armed truce. At any rate, the managerial touch of Al Lopez brought the White Sox to a victorious climb over the collapsed New York Yankees.

"To me this pennant has been the realization of a dream and hard work dating back 12 years," said Comiskey. "As far back as 1948, when I was president of the Waterloo farm club, I hoped to see this day."

between linebacker and fullback two weeks ago. Ray did some fullbacking at Illinois. Carpenter plays all backfield positions. He played most of the Bear game at right half, but Don McIlhenny worked at that spot vs. Detroit.

Temp is like a caged lion — or rather Packer. "I've been keyed up for two games now. I'm ready to let off some steam," Jim said.

Skoronski was on the field to replace Ringo for the last few plays Sunday but Jim would have no part of going to the bench.

Statistics of the first two National league games show that the Packers gained 551 yards from scrimmage while holding opponents to 388. The Packers gained 290 yards by rushing and 261 yards on passes. They attempted only 31 passes, completing 12.

McIlhenny has the best average in rushing. He has gained 59 yards in 8 rushes for a 7.4 average.

Only 200 Line Up for Bleacher Seats in Chicago

Chicago — A thin crowd of some 200 persons formed a haphazard line at Comiskey park at day-break today, awaiting the sale of standing room and bleacher seats for the sixth World Series game.

Some of the policemen in the detail that kept a watchful eye on the goings-on expressed surprise that the turnout was so small for the crucial game. One said there were nearly as many vendors hawking pennants, sandwiches, soft drinks and World Series mementoes as there were fans in line.

There was little, if any, necessity for fires to warm the assembled, although a couple of small blazes were noted before the police ordered them extinguished.

The early morning temperature at the park was 60 degrees.

Terrors, Indians Meet In Key FRVC Clash

age of just 249, Coach Harold Schumeth's Indians have allowed 275. Third-ranking Central has yielded 362 yards in its two tilts.

Both Appleton and Oshkosh have three of the conference's top 10 rushers.

Oshkosh halfback Dale Egnoski is second with 173 yards; halfback Bob Frank is fourth with 158 and fullback Dick Konrad is tied for eighth on 115. Terror halfback Dave LaViolette (123) and quarterback John Nussbaum (115) rank sixth and tied for eighth, while fullback Cal Kluess (96) is tenth.

Mary Hietpas (88) of Appleton is twelfth.

Tied Madison

Oshkosh opened with a 20-26 tie with Madison East, after blowing a 20-0 lead then, the Indians blanked Manitowoc, 13-0, limiting the losers to just 57 total yards and two first downs.

The Indians outgained Green Bay West, 259 yards to 237, in last weekend's 14-14 deadlock.

Frank, the Oshkosh quarterback the last two years, does the passing from his halfback post. In their three games the Indians have passed only 12 times, completing two for 89 yards.

Top Rusher

Fullback Konrad was Oshkosh's leading rusher last season until he was injured. Egnoski, a speedy 205-pounder, gained 47 yards in six carries against AHS in 1958.

The game was won by the Indians, 14-13, at Whiting field.

The Terrors' John Nussbaum attempted 25 passes in that one (completing 12) and it's possible he'll go to the air more Friday than he has thus far this year.

Oshkosh's defensive line hasn't a man under 200 pounds, according to Dillon and the likes of Ray Werner, Bob Bradley, big Don Marin and George Sawall may be hard to move.

Dillon and Assistant Coach Herdis McCrary could go to their bench for more heft Friday if they need it to cope with the Indians' beef trust. Larry Feistel, a 220-pound tackle and John Hohman, another big junior, are two who could be called upon.

May Play
Larry Handel, a smaller-sized senior who started at linebacker in the 20-0 opening win over Menasha, may get back into action Friday. The hard-hitting Handel has been out with a strained ankle since the opener.

Otherwise, as can be easily understood, Dillon is expected to go with pretty much the same personnel that has rolled up 81 points to the opposition's seven in three games.

The Terrors got their first extensive contact in about two weeks in Tuesday's practice and many of the boys reacted to the change with relish.

No Head-Bumping
The lack of scrimmaging or, indeed, any serious head-bumping after the first couple weeks of drill reflects a crystallization of Dillon's theories on practice. It's worked just as Ade intended — keeping down Appleton injuries to the

Pickpockets Busy at Policemen's Show

Savannah, Ga. — Members of a male chorus in a minstrel show returned to their dressing room to find that the pockets of their street clothes had been rifled.

That was bad enough, but even worse considering who sponsored the show — the Police Athletic league.

Hard-Working Rookies And Rebuilt Defense Key 49ers' Fast Start

Pass Protection Has Been Excellent, Coach Hickey Says

BY HARRY JUPITER

San Francisco —A rebuilt defense and a bunch of hard working rookies — that's Coach "Red" Hickey's explanation for the San Francisco 49ers' surprise spurt to the top in the early National Football league going.

"Our whole club's been working hard," says Hickey. "Those first two games, we've played awful good ball both ways — offense and defense — but if I had to pick anything special, it would be our whole defense."

The soft-spoken redhead from Arkansas isn't just drawing dixe.

Joe Offenstien Fashions 578 Industrial Set

'Tex' Techlin's
572 Triple Tops
Merchants Loop

Joe Offenstien sent sticks spinning for a 578 in the Industrial league at Hahn's Wednesday evening, bowling for Offenstien's. One of his games was a 231.

Fred Booth whacked a 231 solo for Wires No. 2 and wound up with a 577. Coated P a p e r and Knoke's (11-4) share first place.

"Tex" Techlin pounded a 572 for Singer Sewing in the Elks Merchants circuit with a 240 game along the route. Home Furniture, Kipp's and Jahnke's (11-4) are tied for the lead.

Don Tremel of IPC No. 1 and Werner Stranghoener of AAL No. 2 boomed co-leading 234s in Hahn's Fraternal circuit. UCT No. 2 (12-3) heads the field by one game.

Mary Lou Hartman's
534 Tops Lucky Loop

Mary Lou Hartman of the first place Big Shoe team (10-2) walloped a 534 for honors in the Lucky league at Hahn's earlier this week. She toppled games of 192 and 200 along the route.

Carol Wojohn hit a 504 threesome.

San Francisco defense. Just 14—two touchdowns.

In 1958 only two clubs — the Chicago Cardinals and the Packers — gave up more than the 234 points that poured through the 49er defenses.

We Experimented

"I took over the 49ers with the idea of building a team. We did a lot of experimenting and had guys playing everywhere in the pre-season games," says Hickey.

"In our last pre-season game, against the Giants, it looked like we had our best on the field. We've kept 'em there and they've started jelling."

One of the pleasantest surprises has been the work of the 1959 defensive backfield — Abe Woodson, Dave Baker, Eddie Dove and Jerry Mertens.

The quartet stifled the Los Angeles Rams passing attack almost completely last Sunday and held the Philadelphia Eagles' great Norm Van Brocklin to almost nothing for most of the openr.

Tommy McDonald of the Eagles, who chalked up four touchdowns against the Giants last Sunday, could manage but one short reception against the 49ers.

Dickie Moegle, who had been rated one of the league's top pass defenders, can't break into the new quartet fashioned by defensive back Coach Jack Christiansen, who for years was a great defensive halfback with Detroit.

Swing Man

"Moegle's kind of our swing guy now," says Hickey. "He's working on relief both ways. It's no discredit to Dick. The kids are doing a real good job."

Baker and Dove are rookies, Woodson is "practically a rookie," says Hickey, pointing out that Abe played only part of the 1958 season, and Mertens, a second-year man, is the old-timer of the fearsome foursome.

Hickey makes no claims about his own contributions to the team's early success.

"We're just looking for boys who want to play winning football," he says, "and it looks like we're in luck."

rough time playing the championship — caliber Eldorado Golf course. Eisenhower hasn't come anywhere near shooting par, which is 72 for 18 holes.

Well, neither has John, whose home is in Birmingham, Ala., and who is assigned to the White House secret service detail. In fact, Johns needed 112 strokes — 40 over par — to tour the course Tuesday.

But stupendous score notwithstanding, Johns managed to hit the golf jackpot. On the par-3 sixteenth hole, Johns asked the advice of his caddy, hauled out his no. 5 iron and let fly.

The ball came down on the green about 18 inches from the cup — and trickled in.

Johns still is so stunned he doesn't talk very coherently about it.

Jerry Fields Returns to QB At Ohio State

Izo Working on Offensive Patterns
At Notre Dame

Chicago —Midwest football briefs:

Ohio State — Jerry Fields returned to quarterback. Guard Don Young was on the injury list with a bruised knee.

Northwestern — Protection of the passer was stressed in the week's only heavy scrimmage. Linemen were warned they face a stiff challenge against the Minnesota line, being outweighed nearly 10 pounds a man.

Purdue — A rugged defensive scrimmage against Wisconsin plays stressed pass defense.

Iowa —End Curt Merz worked out but reportedly will not see action against Michigan State because of a bad knee.

Michigan State — Coach Duffy Daugherty still is undecided whether to start Dean Look or Tommy Wilson at quarterback. Wilson started the first two games after Look was slowed by a sprained shoulder.

Notre Dame — George Izo continues to work on offensive patterns at quarterback after being sidelined a month, but senior Don White still may be the starting choice against California.

Rambler Offers New 4-Door

100-Inch Base
On All American Line 1960 Models

American Motors corporation has expanded its Rambler American line for 1960 with the addition of a new 4-door sedan model. The complete line for 1960 will be unveiled Oct. 14.

"This new model was added to the 100-inch-wheelbase American series because demand for a 4-door model," said Roy Abernethy, vice president of automotive distribution and marketing.

The American line includes 2-door sedans and station wagons.

The door opening angle has been changed from last year's 55 degrees to 75 degrees to allow easier entry. The rear doors on the 4-door sedan also open to 75 degrees.

The 4-door sedan features rear quarter side windows to eliminate blind spots for rear seat passengers.

The car's compact length and wheelbase results in a turning diameter of 36 feet.

Engine Statistics

The 6-cylinder engine develops 90 horsepower, has a compression ratio of 8 to 1 and a piston displacement of 195.6 cubic inches. Regular grade gasoline is recommended.

All Rambler American models are less than 15 feet long (178.3 inches), but provide room for five adult passengers. Hip-room dimensions are 58 inches in the front seat and 45½ inches in the rear. Leg-room totals in the front are 44 inches and in the rear 37½ inches.

The cargo compartment of the station wagon has a carrying capacity of 52 cubic feet with the rear seat down. The super station wagon has a chrome roof-top travel-rack.

A mechanical change is the use of bonded brake linings instead of riveted linings. The new linings offer longer life with no danger of scored brake drums.

New Headlights

Americans for 1960 feature 22-gallon gasoline tanks. The gas filler tube has been changed to a molded rubber type which eliminates the need for a metal joint and thereby reduces the possibility of leakage and entry of dirt. The gas tank pick-up tube and gas gauge sending unit have been combined into a single unit. Power steering is being offered for the first time on the 1960 models.

A new type of headlamp provides greater road illumination, especially when the lower beam is in use.

A new nylon gear shift ball socket with a heavier return spring provides easier shifting on standard, overdrive and automatic transmission cars.

The continental tire mount is available on both the 4-door and the 2-door sedan as an option.

Sports Editor of NBC Radio Dies At World Series

New York —The sports editor of the National Broadcasting Co.'s radio network, Paul Jonas, died Wednesday in Chicago, where he had been supervising NBC coverage of the World Series. He was 62.

Jonas, a figure in sports broadcasting for many years, was sports director of the Mutual Broadcasting system before joining NBC in 1955.

He was credited in 1945 with convincing baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler that major league game broadcasting rights should be sold to the highest bidder, with part of the money to go into a players' pension fund.

Jonas also suggested blocking out network broadcasts of games within a 75 mile area around ball parks.

Americans Build Colony In Pakistan

Live in Large,
Brick Homes; Even Have Swimming Pool

BY HENRY S. BRADSHAW
Kaptai, East Pakistan—

The rice paddies fall behind as your launch goes up the Karnaphuli river. Thick jungle climbs the steep banks to teak trees in bloom atop the hills. Here and there, a bamboo hut appears.

Then, around a bend in the wilderness waterway, you see a hilltop colony of air-conditioned ranch houses. This is Kaptai, a construction town in East Pakistan. There are 200 Americans here. The men are building a dam for the Pakistan government.

Attracting U.S. construction experts to remote, rugged parts requires good pay and the best possible living conditions. Americans here live in spacious, well-furnished brick homes. They have a 40 by 25-foot swimming pool, tennis and basketball courts, a movie every week, occasional baseball games, waterskiing when the river is low in the warm winter.

With the 80 American construction men are 50 wives, 40 sons and 25 daughters.

Tougher at First

The first men to arrive in 1955 didn't have it so good. The administrative officer for International Engineering Co., Inc., of San Francisco, C. L. Braskamp, remembers Thanksgiving of 1956 as a red-letter day. The first sit-down American toilet arrived.

Frozen steaks and vegetables, cosmetics and laundry soap now are ordered three months ahead of time by Guy Rourke of Maryville, La. He runs the commissary and also a bachelors dining hall where a man can eat his fill for a little over $5 a day.

The dining hall kitchen prepares bread for sale in the commissary. "But it's cheaper to bake our own bread," says Mrs. George Kline of Tacoma, Wash. She means that her cook bakes it.

Cheap Liquor, Cigarets

Most of the ordering is done by Rourke. He buys at San Francisco wholesale prices and adds 35 per cent to cover shipping and other expenses. Liquor and cigarettes are cheap because of the absence of taxes. One senior construction engineer says he can bank $500 or more a month.

One reason, of course, is the lack of ways to spend money. Some of the men hunt tigers that bother tribal villages. Sports facilities and home-taught school lessons keep the children busy. The wives play bridge.

But for some, time eventually gets on their hands. Outside the ranch houses, the construction area is either muddy during the monsoon or a cloud of dust. Despite the comforts of home, they do not feel that this is an easy life.

Dam Half Complete

The dam on the Karnaphuli river is about half complete. The powerhouse has been excavated. It will provide 120,000 kilowatts.

This area, known as the Chittagong hill tracts, provides the only dam sites in East Pakistan, mostly a flat river delta area.

The river washed out much of early Pakistan efforts to build a dam. International Engineering became consulting engineers in 1956. Utah International, Inc., of San Francisco was signed up in 1957 to build the dam.

So far the United States has allocated $37½ million to pay for imported equipment and salaries of Americans. Pakistan is providing the equivalent of 52 millions in rupees to cover local costs.

Among other things, the rupees pay for about 4,000 Pakistanis on the job. They range in skills from survey engineers to carriers of stones in head baskets.

The completed dam will be 128 feet high and 1,100 feet long at the top. It is designed to improve navigation on the Karnaphuli and provide siltage control as well as produce power. The river is now used by small boats and rafts of logs and bamboo, the latter going down to a large new government paper mill.

Brigitte Contraband

Lincoln, Neb.—Brigitte Bardot may be a movie star to most folks, but to convicts at the Nebraska penitentiary, she's contraband.

Explaining to the state pardon board a rule infraction for which he had been cited, an inmate said he had been caught with contraband in his cell—a pin-up picture of Brigitte.

Joint City, County Meeting on Airport Expansion Requested

Ald. Roy Pointer wants the $1,025,000 Outagamie county airport expansion plan discussed jointly by the city council and county board.

A long-standing opponent of the present port location, Pointer at Wednesday's council meeting submitted a resolution asking Mayor Mitchell to arrange the joint meeting.

The expansion plan was handed the county Monday by the state aeronautics commission.

It calls for relocating present Highway 41 and French road, required by building a cross runway and extension of the present runway.

Other items of new business, not previously reported, which were referred to committees for study:

Pointer requested a budget for the council's industrial development committee. An abstract now is being obtained for property the committee wants purchased from the Chicago and North Western Railway company. The land is along the south edge of the city's industrial development park on S. Perkins street.

Ald. Austin N. Tucker suggested a study of whether a mid-block pedestrian crosswalk is needed on College avenue between Superior and Division streets.

Special Assessments
Ald. Homer Malmstrom requested the amount of principal and interest which is charged annually to people paying special assessments under the 5-year plan be placed in separate numbers on tax bills. Taxpayers can deduct interest charges from income taxes, and the amount of interest is not now shown on tax bills, he said.

Max Bauer, 1400 W. Prospect avenue, sought rezoning of the second lot south of the southwest corner of Prospect avenue and Haskell street from single family to commercial and light manufacturing district. Eighty-three per cent of the block is commercial, he said.

Nine N. Division street property owners said they no longer object to rezoning of 913 N. Division street from 2-family to multiple family district. They joined in a protesting petition filed Aug. 3.

Dog Law Talk
Peter F. Melchior, of Outagamie County Humane society, asked for an early meeting with the city on problems

Comptroller Report Questioned on Floor

Broehm Says Engineering Charges Not Needed if They're Listed in Assessments

Listing engineering fees in a consideration has never been made.

Five aldermen opposed the finance committee report which recommended acceptance of Broehm's report, and another, also sought by Mrs. Stillings, from Treasurer Ray L. Feuerstein. They were Captain, Ertl, Groh, Malmstrom and Mrs. Stillings.

Compliments Feuerstein Ald. Harold Hanemann, in discussing Feuerstein's report, said Feuerstein ought to be complimented. His work will produce some $40,000 more from investments this year than was projected by the budget committee last fall, he said.

Broehm's report lists a 3-year cost of preparing, mailing and financing special assessments amounting to $72,564. It also lists income of $66,203.

Malmstrom earlier said the 6 per cent engineering charge made it seem the cost to the city was greater than its benefits. Engineering charges make up $52,200 of the $72,564 cost.

Feuerstein's report shows $71,995 as the probable income from investments this year. A list of daily receipts for late December and early January is included.

REALIZES SITUATION
Broehm today said he will advise the board of public works to consider the engineering charges next year in setting special assessments.

He said he realizes the engineering charge is not part of the cost accounting of his office, but the engineering cost is not picked up anywhere else. He said he thought Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings wanted the total cost of sinking funds reported.

"If the engineering costs were considered in the assessments, of course they would not be part of my report," he said.

FIVE OPPOSE
Director of Public Works Duszynski recalled today that he often has urged the board of public works to include engineering costs in determining special assessments. Such

Land Condemnation Bill May Be Vetoed
Madison —(AP)—A bill aimed at modernizing the state's land condemnation laws, the most important bill affecting farmers passed during the spring session of the legislature, will probably be vetoed.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson hinted Thursday, a veto is likely when he named a committee of lawyers to "iron out legal conflicts and confusion" in the bill. Nelson supported the measure during the session.

A governor's office spokesman said the committee probably will work up a new draft of the proposal for introduction in the fall session.

Prices: Cheddars moisture basis 32 1/2-33 1/2; 40-pound blocks no moisture premium 34 1/2-36; single daisies 34 1/2-36; longhorns 35 1/2 - 36 1/2; midgets 35 1/2-37 1/2.

Chicago Poultry
Chicago —(AP)—(USDA)—Live poultry: Wednesday's receipts totaled 77,000 lbs; no prices reported due to insufficient receipts.
